

SIX MEN SEIZED IN FIVE RAIDS

Police Probe Helps Crack Bookie Ring

A well-coordinated effort by three local police departments, and agents from the Internal Revenue Service and the county district attorney's office has closed the net on a bookmaking operation in the north county that was doing more than $20,000 in business daily.

Raids in five separate locations Friday netted six men who are believed to be part of one ring. Five of the six suspects posted a total of $125,000 in bail and were released that evening. The sixth, a parole violator, was held.

The raids are the culmination of two separate investigations by the Daly City Police department and the Internal Revenue Service.

Federal agents were investigating a bookmaking operation on Second avenue when they were notified that Daly City police were looking into a similar operation in the same area.

Patrolman John Kolbman is credited with uncovering information that led to the arrest of the suspected leader of the ring, Charles M. O'Neill, 34, of Mill Valley, who was nabbed in Apartment 235 at 170 Third avenue, Daly City.

The police department, the Internal Revenue Service and district attorney agents pooled their information and met last week to plan the co-ordinated raids.

At precisely 11 a.m. Friday, five separate teams swung into action.

Daly City Police Captain Roy Beecher and detective Philip LaBruzzo swooped into O'Neill's apartment on Third avenue. Arrested with O'Neill was Gene Findley, 32, a bottler, who has a prior record for bookmaking. He has been on probation, police said.

Meanwhile, federal agents arrested Richard A. Andrews, 30, of Sausalito, in an apartment at 175 Second avenue. Andrews was the only one of six suspects seized to be charged with a federal offense.

Lt. David Hansen and detective Les Bastedo raided an apartment at 245 Market street, Daly City, and arrested Raymond S. Nielsen, 30, of San Jose.

Broadmoor Police Chief Ray Savage and district attorney officers nabbed Charles Tibbets, 41, of 787 Skyline drive, Daly City, at 512 A street, Colma.

Tibbets has charges pending from an arrest for bookmaking last January 26. A considerable number of records, both on horse races and sports were found in his possession police said.

He gave his occupation as roofer and part-time teacher at the John O'Connell vocational school.

South San Francisco police and agents from the district attorney's office arrested Sal Prieto in a trailer court at 1240 E2 Camino Real, South San Francisco. He is an unemployed bakery wrapper.

In all five raids agents answered phones and recorded further bets as evidence.

Daly City police said they had sufficient evidence to prove that O'Neill's apartment had served as the hub of the entire operation.

The investigation leading up to the raids involved about 600 man hours by Daly City police alone, investigators said.

AT WESTMOOR

Water Leak Repair Cost Will Be High

Jefferson Union High school trustees Monday were warned to prepare for a "financial shock" on costs of repairing Westmoor High school's defective hot water heating system.

Superintendent Edward Morgan said corrective work would run over $4000, the limit at which work must be put out to bid.

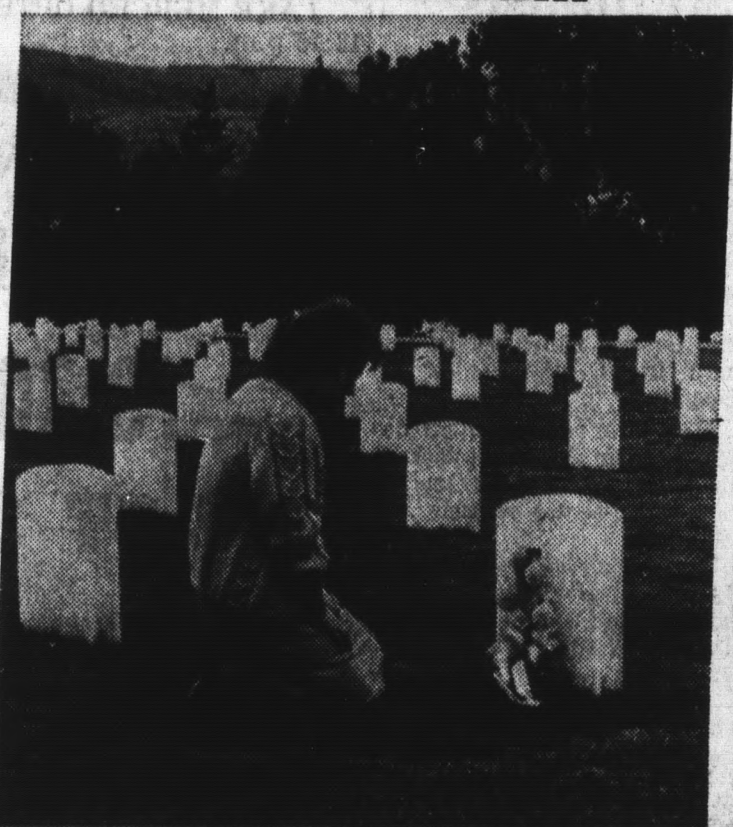

Trustees decided to shorten Westmoor's summer school by five days so that the corrective work can be done in August. Westmoor summer schedule will now be June 19 to August 2.

Emergency measures, bypassing defective lines, have now cut Westmoor's water loss from 11,000 to 2400 gallons per 24 hours, trustees were told Monday. The major leak has been located in the north end of the cafeteria.

Architect Paul Reiter, said test borings made of the soil under the school indicate there is no likelihood of the school being undermined by the escaping water.

A resolution passed by trustees last night declared the condition an emergency, authorizing repairs under a special section of the education code. Trustees also urged continuing action by the (Please See Page 2, Column 4)

In Memoriam

A VISITOR to Golden Gate National Cemetery in San Bruno places flowers on one of hundreds of veterans' graves that will be decorated tomorrow. This will be repeated at cemeteries throughout the North County area as communities pause to observe Memorial Day.

Memorial Day Rites Planned

The North County will pause tomorrow, Memorial Day, to honor its dead.

Perhaps the most solemn ceremonies scheduled will take place at Golden Gate National cemetery in San Bruno where thousands of the area's war dead lies buried.

Three separate services are planned. At 9 a.m., the Fourth Degree of Columbus, will conduct its annual Memorial Day Field Mass at a special altar, located at the base of the flag pole.

At 10 a.m. the Japanese American Citizens league and the Golden Gate Nisei Memorial Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will conduct a memorial service in memory of Japanese-American heroes.

At 10:15, joint memorial services will be conducted at the ceremony, arranged by the United Veterans Co-ordinating Committee of San Mateo county, the San Francisco Mayor's Memorial Day Committee and the Military Order of the World Wars.

In Daly City, the city's fire department will conduct services in memory of deceased members at 11 a.m. on the front lawn of the central fire station at 151 Lake Merced boulevard.

The Rev. Richard P. Fowler of St. Martin's Episcopal church will officiate.

As in past years, police agencies throughout the Bay Area will conduct traffic checks.

The Memorial Day holiday will find schools, banks and most businesses closed.

A supplemental list of prize donors for the Miss Daly City contest was released this week by Fred Martin, Chamber of Commerce chairman of the annual beauty pageant.

The girl who is named Miss Daly City at the finals next Wednesday will receive over $1000 in gifts and prizes. Added this week to the list of donors were:

D.C. Youth Band Maps Rehearsal

The Daly City Youth band, under the direction of Howard Loeffler, Westmoor High school music department head, will begin rehearsals Tuesday, June 18, in the band room of the school.

Developers to Present Plans at S. F. Luncheon

Daly City school, commerce and government leaders will get a special preview of proposed land uses in the Christen Dairy ranch lands by the Suburban Realty company today.

The city leaders will attend a luncheon at the Press and Union League club in San Francisco for a special presentation by the land developers.

The city hopes to annex the 800 acres of choice rolling pasture lands, which were sold by the Christen Dairy firm for an estimated $10-million last year.

The first installment on the purchase, $3,250,000, was made earlier this month.

The Suburban Realty company, a new corporation formed by the Standard Builders and Crocker Land companies to develop the land, plans to build a residential community in the area, complete with single and multi-family shopping centers, schools, parks and playgrounds.

The firm has a "complete detailed land use and development plan," according to Carl Gellert, president of the company.

The development of the community will involve the investment of approximately $150-million Gellert said.

The choice piece of land is one of the few remaining undeveloped areas in the north county.

The Christen family has owned the property for the past 72 years and has used it for dairy farming.

Pacifica Man Rescues Kin

Donald Johnson, 26, of 1160 Crespi drive, Pacifica, dived overboard and battled the swift running tide 20 miles off the Golden Gate bridge Sunday to save the life of his father, Robert M. Johnson, 53, owner of a San Francisco plumbing and heating business firm.

The Johnsons, with three other fishermen, were aboard a chartered vessel about 2 p.m. when the elder Johnson hooked a fish, lost his balance and fell into the choppy waters.

Apparently stunned by the fall he was unable to get to a life preserver with was pitched to him.

His son dived in and after considerable difficulty pulled his father back into the boat.

The elder Johnson, an experienced fisherman who once worked as a whaler, had stopped breathing and apparently was drowned.

One of the other men aboard the boat gave mouth-to-mouth resuscitation and revived him. The boat's skipper, meanwhile, radioed the Coast Guard for help.

New Station Site Asked By Council

Annexation of Bayshore City by Daly City came up three times during the Daly City council meeting Monday.

The council parried questions by an inquisitive resident, asked for the relocation of a fire station in an area adjacent to Bayshore City and appointed election officers for the special annexation election.

The council asked Standard Builders Incorporated, developers of the Southern Hills area, for a new fire house site rather than improvement of an existing station.

The improvement of the facility was one of the requirements in an annexation agreement between the developers and the city in 1960.

E. V. Schulhauser, engineer for the developers, had submitted a final subdivision map for approval by the council.

Mayor Joseph Verducci said the proposed annexation of Bayshore "had changed the picture" insofar as fire service was concerned.

The agreement "was proper in 1960," Verducci said, but the city will be concerned with a larger area now.

Schulhauser said approval of the map Monday was necessary because of a 15-foot setback required by the city.

The builders need variances because of the rugged terrain of the subdivision. Building would have to be halted another 30 days, he said. No variances could be applied for without a recorded map.

The council approved the map with the assurance of Schulhauser that something could be worked out.

Questions by George Kirchhubel of 4 Vendome avenue, on fire insurance rates, water, garbage and property taxes involved in annexation were answered by the councilmen.

Verducci assured Kirchhubel that all aspects of services had been "looked over thoroughly."

"If we can find a way of providing better services we will do it," he said.

The council assured Kirchhubel there would be no significant (Please See Page 2, Column 1)

MISS DALY CITY

Five Finalists Vie for Crown

One week from tonight, a new Miss Daly City will be named and if the preliminary judging is any guideline, the choice should be a difficult one.

At least that was the consensus of opinion among some 300 admiring persons Friday night who sat in on the selection of five finalists for the Miss Daly City crown.

Burglary Prevention Week Set

Next week in Daly City will officially be known as Burglary Prevention Week, according to a proclamation issued by Mayor Joseph Verducci.

The mayor urged all citizens to join in measures designed to "discourage and diminish" unlawful entry and burglary.

Police Chief Roland Petroch, in conjunction with the mayor's decree, has drawn up a timely list of do's and don'ts for homeowners to follow. His hints are contained in an article on Page 2 of today's Post-Times.

The judges, spectators agreed, were hard-pressed to limit a curvaceous field of 15 candidates to the five who will vie for the title in next week's elaborate pageant in the South San Francisco Elks club on Hillside boulevard.

The fifteen young ladies who had entered the preliminary judging, conducted under the swimming pool in the Coronado apartments, found the night air chilly.

But between shivers, they put on a show of poise and personality that, observers agreed, belied the temperature reading.

Here are the five finalists who will vie for the crown and some $1000 in prizes:

Judi Ann Homan, 17, of 607 Florence street, a junior at Jefferson High school. She is 5-3 with auburn hair and blue eyes and measures 36-23-36.

Gloria Morrissey, 18, of 48 Crestline avenue, a senior at Westmoor High school. She is 5-3 with brown hair and brown eyes, 35-26-35.

Sharon Schroder, 17, 300 Bellevue avenue, a graduate of Jefferson High school. She is 5-9 with brown hair and brown eyes. She was a finalist in last year's contest.

Karen S. Schroeter, 20, of 40 Crestview drive, a graduate of Westmoor High school. She is 5-6 with blonde hair and blue eyes, 36-23-36.

Claudia Ann Smith, 18, of 71 Garden Grove drive, a senior at Westmoor High school. She is 5-11 with brown hair and brown eyes. (Please See Page 2, Column 6)

County Votes Tuesday on Road Bonds

A $35-million bond issue for 28 road projects in San Mateo county will be placed before the voters Tuesday.

A resolution endorsing the measure and urging the voters to give it their full support was adopted by the San Mateo county Council of Mayors at a meeting at the Villa Chartier in San Mateo.

Daly City Mayor Joseph Verducci, council president, said the program for road improvements and new construction throughout the county represented the first unified effort by the cities and the county to tackle the growing traffic problem.

The general obligation bonds would be amortized over a 20-year period.

The city-county road plan was conceived by the Greater Highway committee of San Mateo county and developed by the George S. Nolte Consultant firm of engineers.

The plan has received the endorsement of business, labor, civic and government leaders throughout the county.

Three projects are within the boundaries of Daly City. They are:

Construction of a four-lane road from Lake Merced boulevard to Park Plaza drive, the widening of an extension of Sullivan avenue from Eastmoor avenue to Southgate avenue, and the extension of Southgate avenue from Cerro drive to Junipero Serra freeway.

An underpass at Lake Merced boulevard and Alemany boulevard would separate traffic at what engineers have called "an impossible intersection."

The Sullivan avenue extension is designed to service the new Mary's Help hospital and the extension of Southgate avenue will provide the St. Francis Heights area with an eastern entrance from Junipero Serra boulevard.

Two other projects, which will directly affect Daly City are the extension of Hickey boulevard from Junipero Serra boulevard to Skyline boulevard and the widening of Hillside boulevard from Market street in Daly City to Holly street in South San Francisco.

The Hickey extension would go through the Christen Ranch lands (Please See Page 2, Column 3)

WESTLAKE STORES OPEN WEDNESDAY AND FRIDAY NIGHTS

THEFT PREVENTION WEEK

Let's All Fool Those Burglars

(Editor's Note: It's that time of year, police officials point out, when burglars and prowlers step up their activities to a seasonal pitch. To alert Daly City residents to this danger, Police Chief Roland A. Petrocelli has prepared this message and a list of precautions for home owners.)

This is the time of the year when burglars and prowlers have easy "pickin'." Most citizens will soon be going off on week-ends or vacations and virtually abandoning their homes to burglars.

Sunday through June 8, 1963, has been declared by the Daly City Police department as Burglary Prevention Week, a period during which we hope to make all homeowners more aware of the precautions they may take to frustrate the attempts of would-be burglars this summer.

The unconcerned and careless attitude of many citizens was largely responsible for the 297 burglaries committed in our city last year.

Although most people didn't intentionally invite intruders to ransack their homes, they might just as well have hung up a sign saying, "No one's home, burglars welcome!"

A stroll around your neighborhood any day will tell you at a glance who's away; their porches will be cluttered with circulars; you'll see an accumulation of milk bottles on the stoop, an unkempt lawn, an empty garage with the door open, or a bulging mailbox—all tip-offs that will broadcast "no one's home" to anyone canvassing the neighborhood.

In the evening, most empty homes can be spotted, too; just look for the dark houses. It's a known fact that light is one of the best deterrents to crime, yet most homeowners go out for an evening and leave their homes completely dark.

Or, they'll go off for a week-end or vacation and leave the same light burning day and night. No lights at all, or the same light burning continuously is a good giveaway that "no one is home."

A simple but effective means of having light in your home every evening is by connecting an automatic timing device to one or two lamps.

Such a timer will turn a lamp "on" early in the evening, then turn it "off" several hours later. With lights turning on and off during the evening hours, this will give the appearance someone is home and may avert a possible burglary attempt.

Homes and apartments are the scenes of more than four of every 10 burglaries. By observing these few simple precautionary steps, you can reduce the possibility of a burglar selecting your dwelling as his target next time you're away.

Connect a lamp to an automatic timer to turn lights in the home on and off each evening.

Close and lock all doors, including porch, basement and garage. Use pin-tumbler cylinder locks on outside entrances and safety latches on the windows.

Be sure all screens are fastened from the inside.

Never leave valuables lying around; keep them in a safety deposit box.

If you're leaving for a week-end or longer:

Notify your police department when you'll be leaving and how long you expect to be away.

Cancel all deliveries, such as the milk, laundry, cleaning, etc. Also be sure to suspend the newspaper or arrange to have it sent to your vacation address.

Have a neighbor or your post office hold all mail until you return.

Arrange with a friend to mow the lawn and sweep your sidewalk once a week. Also, ask him if he'll pick up any circulars or handbills that may be left on your porch.

Leave your shades and blinds as you normally do; closed blinds keep the sun out but also make an effective screen for the burglar.

Never advertise your departure with an item in the local paper. Give the story about your vacation to the newspapers after you've returned.

There is no such thing as a "burglar proof" home. But there are steps that everyone can take to keep the burglar's activity to a minimum.

By following the suggestions listed above, you'll be helping to protect your home whenever you're away.

Freeway proposals in the area anticipate growth. The planned extension of Hickey boulevard from Junipero Serra boulevard to Skyline boulevard will provide the area with a main thoroughfare to both east and west.

The new Junipero Serra freeway will extend along the entire eastern frontage of the property.

Pacifica Mayor Harold Feyge called the passage of the bond issue "necessary to provide much-needed links with the east side of the Peninsula."

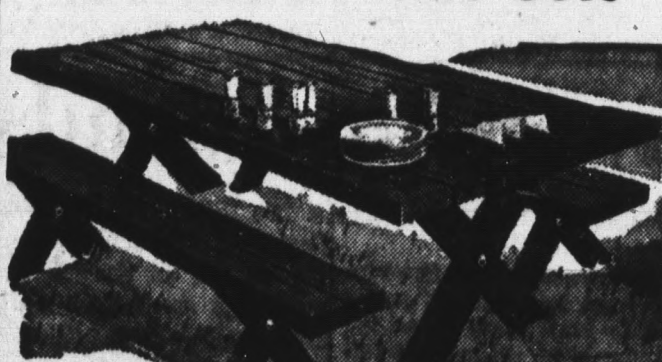

"Now that we are about to get our coastal freeway, the next important steps are the cross-county laterals," he said.

The need for lateral arteries is accentuated, Verducci said, by forecasts for the next 30-year period which show the population in the county nearly doubling and the job opportunities increasing at an even greater rate.

"We have already been warned by leaders of both industry and labor that new industry is not coming to San Mateo county unless we get our road system in shape," he said.

Pacifica Pushes Freeway Project

Pacifica city councilmen moved to speed up construction of a four-lane highway throughout the length of the city by years last week when they entered into an agreement with the state division of highways for additional highways rights of way in behalf of the state.

Although work to extend the Edgemar freeway to a point south of Fairway Park is scheduled to begin within 30 days, actual freeway construction as far south as the southern city limits of the city is not planned for years, according to City Manager Karl A. Baldwin.

Last night's agreement will mean that construction of an interim four-lane highway south to Linda Mar can probably take place as early as next year, Baldwin said. Estimated cost of the interim non-divided highway is $25,000.

In agreeing to negotiate for needed rights of way with private property owners in behalf of the state for the temporary highway, council members agreed the city can still press for rapid construction of Route 229 to San Bruno.

Exit Roads
The council received word from the state highway division last week that a city proposal that directional signs showing types of businesses in areas be placed on exit roads from the freeway would not be acceptable to the state if additional funds for freeway landscaping is to be allocated.

Councilmen agreed to refer the problem to the park, beach and recreation commission to work out a compromise solution.

The controversial trailer park at the eastern end of Linda Mar received another delay last night when the council decided an application of rezoning of more than 300 acres should be submitted to planning commissioners rather than for the 65-acre site for the trailer court alone as proposed by the applicant.

The action was taken after a lengthy discussion on rezoning the area at the valley's end from an agricultural to a planned community zone.

It was decided the entire area should be studied as one unit rather than just the portion to be developed into the trailer court.

A proposal of the Oldstad Development company for a multi-million dollar high rise apartment project east of Cabrillo highway and south of Pacifica Manor was held over until June 26 to give the council time to study a proposed new ordinance regulating high rise apartment projects.

Letters were received from two property owners objecting that the development is not suitable to the area.

Water Leak Costs Told
district attorney's office to ascertain liability for the defects.

Jefferson trustees Monday refused to endorse the city-county road bond issue as requested by Daly City mayor Joseph Verducci. Trustees simply passed a resolution urging citizens to vote on the issue.

A gas leak that appeared and disappeared and maybe never was there closed Jefferson High school down for 12 hours and cost the district $25 in overtime, superintendent Edward Morgan reported last night. On April 3, PG&E employees reported a gas leak of 60 cubic feet per hour but later extensive search by plumbing contractors failed to confirm the company's findings.

Jefferson trustees recommended that a referee be appointed to decide who should be required to pay for the cost of searching for the leak.

This summer Jefferson's faculties will work on a proposed policy for the recommended size of district classes, superintendent Morgan reported last night. There has been no policy decision by the trustees in the past on the size of classes.

Budget decisions limit the number of teachers to be hired, Morgan said.

'Dog Lovers' In Daly City Face Charges

Dog fanciers Manuel and Marjorie Gomez of 275 Alexander street, Daly City, who had their already complicated legal difficulties further complicated recently when they were arrested for ransacking a Half Moon Bay model home, faced still other court troubles yesterday.

Deputy District Attorney James L. Browning Jr. said a complaint charging the couple with cruelty to animals has been issued in northern district municipal court. Named in the complaint with Mr. and Mrs. Gomez was Miss Donna Drybread of 1005 Pacific avenue, Half Moon Bay, who was charged with being the couple's accomplice in the Half Moon Bay burglary.

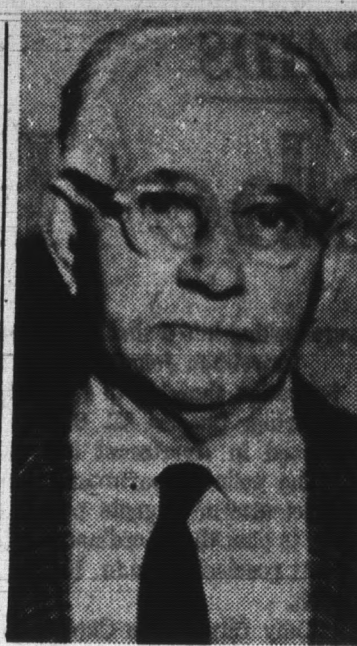

The latest charge, Browning said, grew out of a visit to the Gomez' home on May 17 by Humane Officers George Hutto and Paul Maxwell. Four large thoroughbred Doberman Pinscher dogs and a litter of 10 pups was found. Taken to a county veterinary hospital, it was found the animals were suffering from malnutrition. One of the puppies later died, according to the humane officers.

The Daly City city council recently passed an ordinance limiting the number of dogs that can be kept in city limits as a result of neighbors' complaints about the number of dogs in the home of the Gomez'.

Martin was assisted in his pleasant duties by Mrs. Janet Jackson, the first Miss Daly City and by Susan Thorne, the reigning Miss Daly City.

Judges included Joseph Mottola, Lee Chamberlain, Janet Parkinson, George Cordellos and Sarann Daly. They also will select the 1963 winner.

She will be chosen on the basis of beauty, poise and personality. The colorful pageant will begin at 6:30 p.m. at the Elk's club. Tickets are now on sale at the chamber's offices at 6454 Mission street and at the office of The Post-Times, 30 Park Plaza drive.

AN EDITORIAL

Highway Bonds Are Vital

The dynamic growth of population and industry in San Mateo county no longer surprises anyone. It has become a commonplace to state that the population will have doubled, far past the million mark, by 1990. No one disputes such forecast. Most citizens of the county have witnessed similar growth in the last decade and know that it is going to continue.

Knowing this, it becomes the height of folly not to take advantage of the foreknowledge by planning and providing, as best we can within our means, to meet the problems and the needs that the coming growth will bring with it.

We have plain evidence of such folly because we are already burdened with problems and needs arising out of the growth that has already come to us.

One of the greatest problems and biggest needs already existing, and certain to develop with increasing urgency, is that of the free movement of our residential and industrial traffic. The traditional pattern of the north-south movement of the county's economy has been broken and our lateral road system is incapable of handling the change. In the years to come the east-west movement is likely to become the most important factor of our development, and unless this pattern is improved, the economy of the county could be choked by its own immobility.

This is the underlying reason why voters will be wise to approve the $35,000,000 City-County highway bond issue at the special county election on June 4.

The citizens of our county are, rightly, highly tax conscious and the Post believes that some of them have been frightened at the prospect of a bond issue of this size. However, placed in proper perspective, the tax cost of this project shrinks to a non-frightening figure.

Applied across the entire assessed valuation of the county, the cost is relatively small. The cost at the peak point, which will not arrive until 1969-70, will be only 11.5 cents per hundred dollars assessed valuation. Contrasted with the 65 to 75 cents cost per hundred that would have been chargeable for the Bay Area Rapid Transit District, 11.5 cents is small indeed.

Actually, the cost of this bond issue is negligible when compared with the benefits to be derived. The average homeowner will never pay more than 44 cents a month and the availability of the highway improvement to be made should save him more than this cost each month in auto expense.

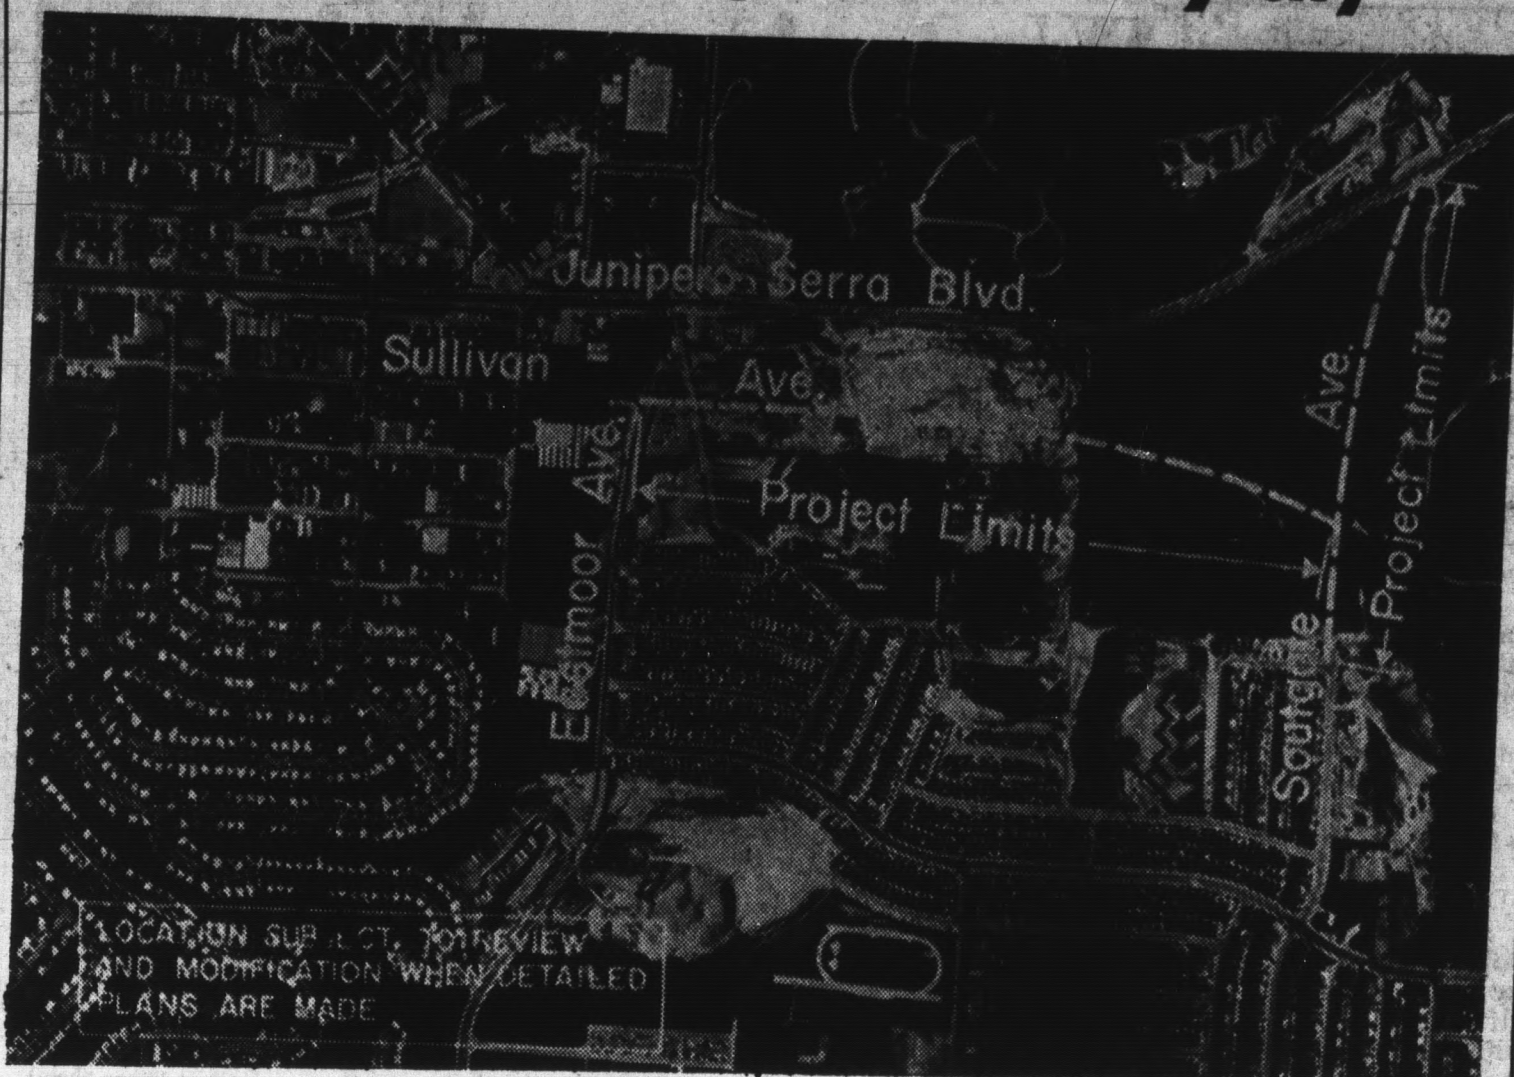

Finally on this matter of cost, the county's two leading watchdogs of public expense, the Governmental Research Council and the Town Hall association are both satisfied that cost is justified and the benefits will be commensurate. In fact, they were pleased to learn that the approval of this bond issue will release more than $14,000,000 from other sources so that the taxpayers will get more than $49,000,000 value for their $35,000,000 investment.

The full list of 28 projects to be financed by the bonds and the funds from other sources has been published many times and includes major projects for most of the cities in the county as well as others in the unincorporated areas. Most of them will improve the lateral traffic situation and 12 of them will accomplish the long overdue elimination of the remaining railway grade crossings in the country.

In sum total, this county-city highway bond issue offers a bargain that can never be offered again. Every project listed will eventually have to be carried out, probably sooner than later, and will cost more individually than it can be done for now.

The Post earnestly recommends to its readers that it will be both prudent and economical to vote "Yes" on this highway bond issue and meet the needs of the future boldly instead of being dragged along behind them.

Road Projects Proposed for Daly City

TWO PROJECTS—Two of the projects financed by the proposed $35-million highway bond issue that would be undertaken in Daly City are shown in this aerial view. Sullivan avenue would be extended eight-tenths of a mile from Eastmoor avenue to Southgate avenue, parallel to the new Junipero Serra Freeway. Cost of this project would be $440,000. The second phase would involve the construction of a four-lane street to connect Southgate avenue with the relocation of Chinese Cemetery road at cost of $230,000.

EASTMOOR ROAD LIGHTENED—The heavy traffic load on Eastmoor avenue, top, would be greatly lightened by the extension of Southgate avenue, according to Daly City Engineer William Chapman. The traffic from the St.

Francis Heights area would be split. Trying to improve Eastmoor "would be treating the symptoms rather than the cure," Chapman said. The Southgate extension is expected to cost approximately $230,000. (Post-Times photo)

Falconer Hurt In Cliff Fall

A Daly City falconer suffered severe cuts and bruises Saturday afternoon when he fell 150 feet down a Point Reyes cliff while searching for young hawks to train.

Authorities said Kenneth Gammon, 31, of 199 Santa Cruz avenue, fell from a ledge and dangled at the end of a rope before falling to a rocky beach below the cliff.

He was taken to Marin General hospital in San Rafael.

A companion reported that Gammon had tied the rope to his wrist before he started a tricky descent down the cliff on the Kehoe Ranch near Cataract creek on the Point Reyes Peninsula. When he fell, the companion ran a mile to the home of Mrs. James Kehoe to summon help.

Gammon has trained and hunted with hawks for the past seven years, authorities reported.

Polio Clinics Are Planned

Those who missed one or more types of oral polio vaccine may get them at the regular polio clinics operated by the county health department, according to Dr. James M. Bodie, department superintendent. Or they may get them from their private physicians.

Clinics will operate from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. on the following schedule:

Monday and June 24—Redwood City health center, 500 Arguello street.

June 10—San Mateo health and welfare center, 225 Thirty-seventh avenue.

June 17—South San Francisco health center, 1024 Mission road. Additional clinics will be scheduled throughout the summer if there is a need for them, Dr. Bodie said.

Hearing Time, Place Slated

A time and location have been scheduled for a public hearing June 19 on the plan to unify five school districts in the North county into one district. The hearing will be at 8 p.m. in the Little theater of Westmoor High school, 131 Westmoor avenue, Daly City.

Goodwill Seeks More Materials

A drive to collect materials needed to give work to disabled teen-agers during the school vacation is now under way at Goodwill Industries.

The student employment program, piloted last year by Goodwill in co-operation with the California League for the Handicapped, is lagging because of a lack of small electrical appliances, wooden furniture and clothing needed to train the youngsters.

According to Kenneth G. Foster, Goodwill's executive director, students throughout the Bay Area are already applying for work.

VANDALISM REPORTED

Pauline E. Holmgren of 286 Los Olivos avenue reported to Daly City police over the weekend that vandals had broken a window and had removed mail from her mailbox and scattered it around a vacant lot next door.

By LE PACINI

IT TOOK observation of the Giants versus the Dodgers in L. A. three weeks ago to firmly convince me that the Giants are undoubtedly the greatest team in baseball.

They hoe the toughest row in the game with hardly a whimper. While all the other major league teams are required to breeze through a mere 162 game schedule, the Giants are compelled to battle through 324 games.

They play 'em two at a time. Not only must they lick their opponents, but they have themselves to contend with as well — which may be the toughest assignment of all.

After watching the scintillating baserunning of Cepeda, the flawless grace and matchless baseball instinct of McCovey, and the masterful manipulations of Dark in keeping Harvey Kuenn on the bench in late innings, it is amazing to me that the Giants came as close as they did to the Dodgers, who, with only two pitchers and a crippled shortstop playing third, were no world-beaters themselves.

Probably no championship team in the history of baseball has ever beaten itself so often so effortlessly. The Giants, it appears, will win the pennant again in spite of themselves because they have the greatest manpower in baseball.

And because I have always rooted for the Giants, even when they were based in New York, and because they are the hometown team, I will always root for them even if they continue to insist on winning in their own frustrating manner just as the Mets lose in their own manner. Let's face it. This is the way the Giants play baseball. They are that type of team.

Accept it as style — like Steinbeck not using punctuation as the mood strikes him — and your rooting life will be an easier one.

But also accept the fact that unless the Giants change their stripes, they will never beat the Yankees, whom, I assume, will win the American league pennant because the Yanks have their indefinable product called "class" and it's class, not breaks or inches or fate, that wins 4-3 World Series and 1-0 games.

The edge which class affords is slight and certainly nebulous, but it is as important as batting averages, earned run averages and all the other tangibles upon which baseball predictions are predicated.

ASIDE FROM the question of class as opposed to brute talent, one has to wonder about the inane philosophy expressed by some players when, upon "blowing" an early season game, they remark: "Oh well, at least it wasn't for the pennant."

What games, may I ask, in the course of a so-called 162 game championship season aren't for the pennant? Is the last week of the season more important than the first?

I can see no difference — yet it's the favorite method of some managers to experiment in early season with rookies, platoons, lineup switches, etc., so as to ready themselves with a solid lineup for the stretch drive.

Experimenting is for spring training. A set, solid team scratching for every win in early season would negate any need for a stretch drive. An analogy could be drawn here with the fighter who coasts in the early rounds to save himself for a late spurge. What's wrong with an early spurge, which could make a late one unnecessary — like Marciano used to arrange it?

A COUPLE of weeks ago, Chicago Cub pitcher Bob Buhl got his first hit in 88 times at bat. It made headlines. Buhl should have been ashamed of himself but he probably looked upon it as a great feat and gloried in the mock adulation of teammates.

Why it is that a pitcher's batting average should be a standing gag is a mystery to me. A pitcher, like any other player on the team, should be a whole player. Pitchers who can't hit or field, run or hold batters on bases, are rarely successful for very long.

There have been few really great pitchers — or even consistently good ones — who couldn't do more than pitch.

Just ticking contemporary pitchers off the top of my typewriter who have been good or great for years and who are complete ballplayers, I can think of Warren Spahn, Lew Burdette, Jack Sanford, Billy Pierce, Whitey Ford, Bobby Shantz, Harvey Haddix, Robin Roberts. There used to be Bob Lemon, Bucky Walters, Johnny Sain, Jim Tobin, Wes Ferrell, Babe Ruth, of course, and enough others to fill several pages.

A smartly-fielded bunt, a runner picked off a base, can break up many a rally, and if a pitcher can bat in just seven or eight runs a season, it could mean the difference between his being a 15 or a 20-game winner. That five game margin is the difference between goodness and greatness, $20,000 and $50,000, the Hall of Fame or a few buried lines in the Baseball Encyclopedia.

Pitchers who swing bats like girls, refuse to run out grounders — they're not laughable. They're pitiful, and don't deserve the name of baseball player.

5 Bulldogs On All-GCC

College of San Mateo's catcher Mickey Corso is the only unanimous selection on the All-GCC Gate conference baseball team, which is picked by the coaches.

Outfielder Rich Reitz also made the first team, giving the Bulldogs two spots on the 11-man first squad.

Three Bulldogs made the second team. They are pitcher John Morris, third baseman Duke Fadday and outfielder John DeVos.

Corso led the conference in hitting with a .415 average.

Catcher — Mickey Corso (CSM); pitcher — Rich Reitz (CSM); first base — Jim Morris (Foothill); second base — Jim Morris (Foothill); third base — Gary Roberts (Foothill); shortstop — Phil Sheehan (Chabot); outfield — Duke Fadday (CSM), John DeVos (Chabot), John Morris (Foothill).

John Lucas produced an unusual Penn State cross-country team in his first campaign as head coach last fall.

WESTLAKE BOWL

DICK BIRKETT has found that being league secretary helps his bowling. As secretary of the new 815 Scratch league, Dick started off with a 591 series on abig game of 228.

Westlake bowlers are rolling on brand new lanes this week as the annual resurfacing has been completed. Over the long weekend there will be plenty of opportunity for open play bowlers to "break in" the lanes.

Jerry Nelson took first place in the Monday afternoon Ladies' 3-6-9 singles and took home the $8 prize. Rose Jachetta won $5.75 for second and Anita Del Campo $3.25 for third place.

Fred Eschenherst topped the Tuesday night bowlers with a big 622 series as he posted a 235 high game.

The B'nai B'rith league race became tighter as Walter Walter led his team to two victories over the league leaders, shooting a 227 game and 617 series.

One pin kept Bob Campodonico from membership in the 600 club as he shot a 223 game and 599 series.

NEXT SUNDAY marks the end of the qualifying round in the Gold Coast classic. With the Westlake entries over the 1000 mark, it now appears that about twelve hundred bowlers will compete before the June 2 deadline.

Mercedes Johnson led the Ladies' 650 Scratch league with an even 600 series last Tuesday as she rolled a 211 high game.

Another secretary made good as Helen Henry led the Star-liners for the week with a 186 game and 475 series.

First week leaders in the new Southgate Mixed Fives were Lorraine Shebunka with 178-447 and John Kunst with 205-572.

Daytime league meetings are scheduled as follows: Tuesday at 9:30 a.m.; Wednesday, at 9:30 a.m. and Friday June 6 at 10 a.m. Information may be obtained by calling Rick at PL 6-5777.

A BRAND NEW weekly feature will start here at Westlake on Wednesday June 5 at 7 p.m., when the "3-6-9 Mixer" will get underway. Open to men and women, automatic strikes will be given in the third, sixth and ninth frames of each game.

Bowlers may then discard their lowest game, using the three game total to compete for cash prizes. The cost will be $2.75 and competition will be held each week until August 26. The average used will be 1963 Bluebook. Minimum for those not having averages will be men 140 and ladies 130.

Plans for the fifth annual Daly City Police Athletic league bowling tournament will be announced at the first meeting, June 4, according to co-chairmen Pat Garcia and Al Stagnaro and PAL president Rich Brewer. The tournament will open with a gigantic squad, including a dance and buffet on June 22.

Green Valley Cafe swept three out of four games from Team 5 in recent Metropolitan Mixed 5's action. John Barada, 173 average, paced the winners with his 232-536 series. Dennis Coffey led the league that night on a 211-581 threesome.

Scores continue to climb in the Monday evening 700 Handicap league. Last week's results show Ward Potthoff blasting 200-570 for the Q.F.I. team; Jim Curran tallied 146 pins over his average on a 221-587 series, and Mike Feliciano just missed a 600 series on a 210-598 effort in other action.

Competition in the 775 Boozers loop is hot indeed! George Savy led the Sullivan Sport Shop to a 3-1 win over team 10 on a powerful 211-611 total. Team 6, led by Frank Romero with a 212-570 series, swept three of four games from Team 8 while Roland Fierro paced his team 7 to a four-game victory over the Hooper Printing Co. on a strong 216-603 trio.

David Daviton tagged this week's high individual game with a 249 in the 750 Masters league. This effort coupled with games of 200 and 155 tallied a nice 604 for Dave Wednesday night. Ray Harriman took 2nd. spot in the individual high series department with a 206-597 score.

John Avanzine rolled high in weekend Father and Son kegling with a nifty 223-606 while John Tomasello led the juniors with a solid 214-597 threesome.

The U.S.E. team jumped out to a good start in the new summer Guys and Dolls mixed league with a four-game sweep over Team 3 last Wednesday. John Nielsen paced the winners with a terrific 213-599 series and Bob Rankin led the losers with a 504 total.

They Topped the Field

CHAMPS — Top golfers among the men and women who participated in the annual Pacifica Golf tournament last week hold their trophies while Larry Kennedy, left, master of ceremonies at an awards program later, looks on.

The champions are Mrs. Sam Prusoff of San Francisco who tallied a low gross of 35 and Lido Landi of 1050 San Francisco boulevard, Pacifica, who led the men with a low gross of 69.

Greenskeeper Is 'Loser' in Politico Match

The greenskeeper was the loser last Thursday in a one-hole "grudge match" between Pacifica's Mayor Harold Feyge and ex-Mayor George Mason, a feature of the Pacifica Fifth Annual Open Golf Tournament.

On the par-four hole, Mason won a nine. Mayor Feyge, whose ball sailed into the creek, came in with a 15. According to an eyewitness report, both players took so many divots the screen later resembled a battlefield.

According to the rules of their match, the two politicians had to play the ball where it lay.

Landi Wins Pacifica Golf Tournament With 69 Score

Lido Landi, owner of Landi's Linhares of Daly City scored 72. Low net winner was Ed Castagnatto, a former San Francisco champion. Low gross winners among the women were Jane Prusoff and Mary Lou Hills, both of Pacifica.

The Pacifica tournament's perpetual cup is named in honor of Mrs. Hills' late husband, Horace Hills.

A total of 245 players participated in the golf tourney this year. It was sponsored by the Pacifica Tavern Owners' association.

Cards, Lions, Dodgers, Plaza Lead

The PAL Cardinals, the Holy Angels Lions, the PAL Dodgers and the BYA Skyline Plaza nines led their leagues last week in baseball sponsored by the Daly City Recreation department. Here is a rundown of the action:

JUNIOR BASEBALL

Frank Rodriguez's BYA Plaza took over the top spot in the Junior league this week. Marcin Smith on the mound and Ron Smith behind the plate proved a winning combination against the PAL Cubs.

Ron Smith tagged two singles and a double as Plaza won 8-4. Plaza also beat the OLM Saints, 9-8.

Joe Cardoza spoiled another one for Jim Davis with a line drive RBI in the seventh inning to put the PAL Tigers over the OLM Saints 2-1. Davis, incidentally, took the only 2 hits off Tiger pitcher Duane Morin.

In other actions the Tigers in their meeting with the OLPH Fal-

Youth Takes Over in Daly City Government

Leaders of Tomorrow

are: William Willoughby, city engineer; Toni Matteucci, councilwoman; Ray Archuleta, mayor; Evelyn Morabe, personnel director, and Sieglide Carstens, building inspector. Jeff photographer Vic Ojakian is in background.

Seventeen students from Westmoor and Jefferson High schools participated in the annual "Youth in Government" program in Daly City. Six members of instructor Gil Tobbia's photography class at Jefferson High school followed the student politicians for a week while they learned about the intricate job of running a city.

The photographers were John Torres, Randy Marston, Robert Ryan Jr., Rich Perata, Vic Ojakian, and Ray Figone.

The students who participated in the program were:

Ray Archuleta, Jefferson, who replaced Mayor Joseph Verducci, Mark Clark, Westmoor, who replaced Vice mayor Michael DeBernardi.

Toni Matteucci, Jefferson, who replaced councilman Edward Dennis. Gloria Moore, who replaced councilman Francis Pacelli.

Robert Dumont, who replaced councilman Robert St. Clair.

John Cummings, Westmoor, who replaced City Manager Edward Frank.

Evelyn Morabe, Jefferson, who replaced Personnel Director Willis Hawley. William Willoughby, Jefferson, who replaced City Engineer William Chapman.

Paula Hirschberg, Westmoor, who replaced City Clerk Anna Olendorf. Jack Petranker, Westmoor, who replaced City Treasurer Joseph Lewkowitz.

Tony Thomas Westmoor, who replaced Finance Director Joseph Arch. Tito Torres, Westmoor, who replaced Fire Chief Elmer Kennedy.

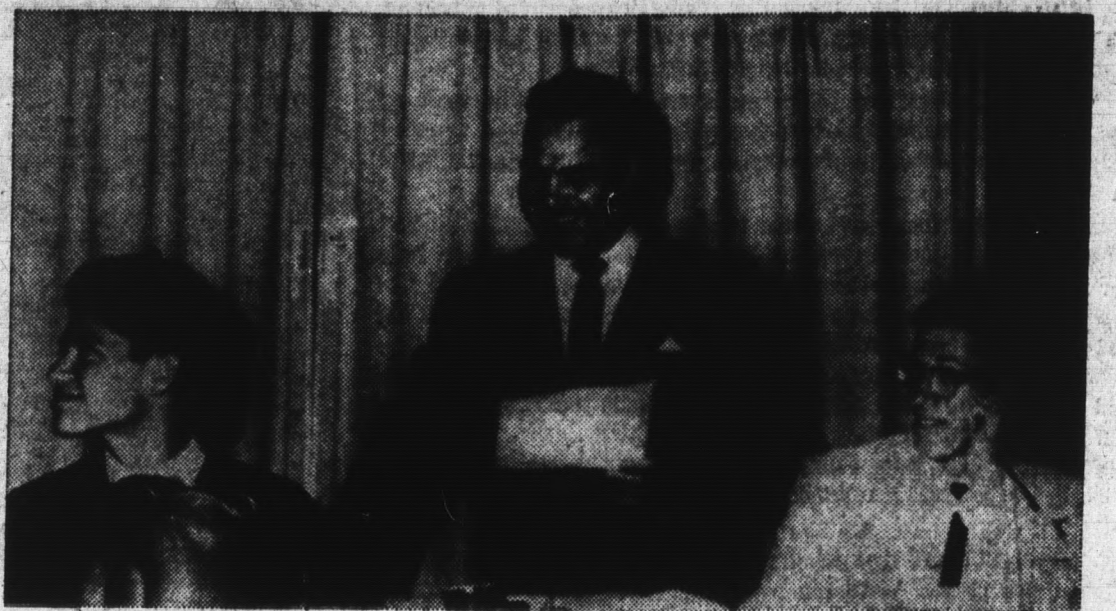

Charlotte Corvo, Westmoor who replaced City Librarian Samuel Chandler. Sieglide Carstens, Jefferson, who replaced Building Inspector George Hopman.

Veronica Pack, Jefferson, who replaced Planning Technician Calvin Malone. Rey Obligation, Jefferson, who replaced Chief of Police Roland Petroch.

Margaret Jimenez, Jefferson, who replaced Director of Recreation Charles Vincent.

Frank Kane, advisor at Jefferson High, and Frank Kane, advisor at Jefferson High, Hildegard Sidel and Richard Hart, advisors at Westmoor High, assisted co-chairmen Alan Boyd and Willis Hawley in co-ordinating the program.

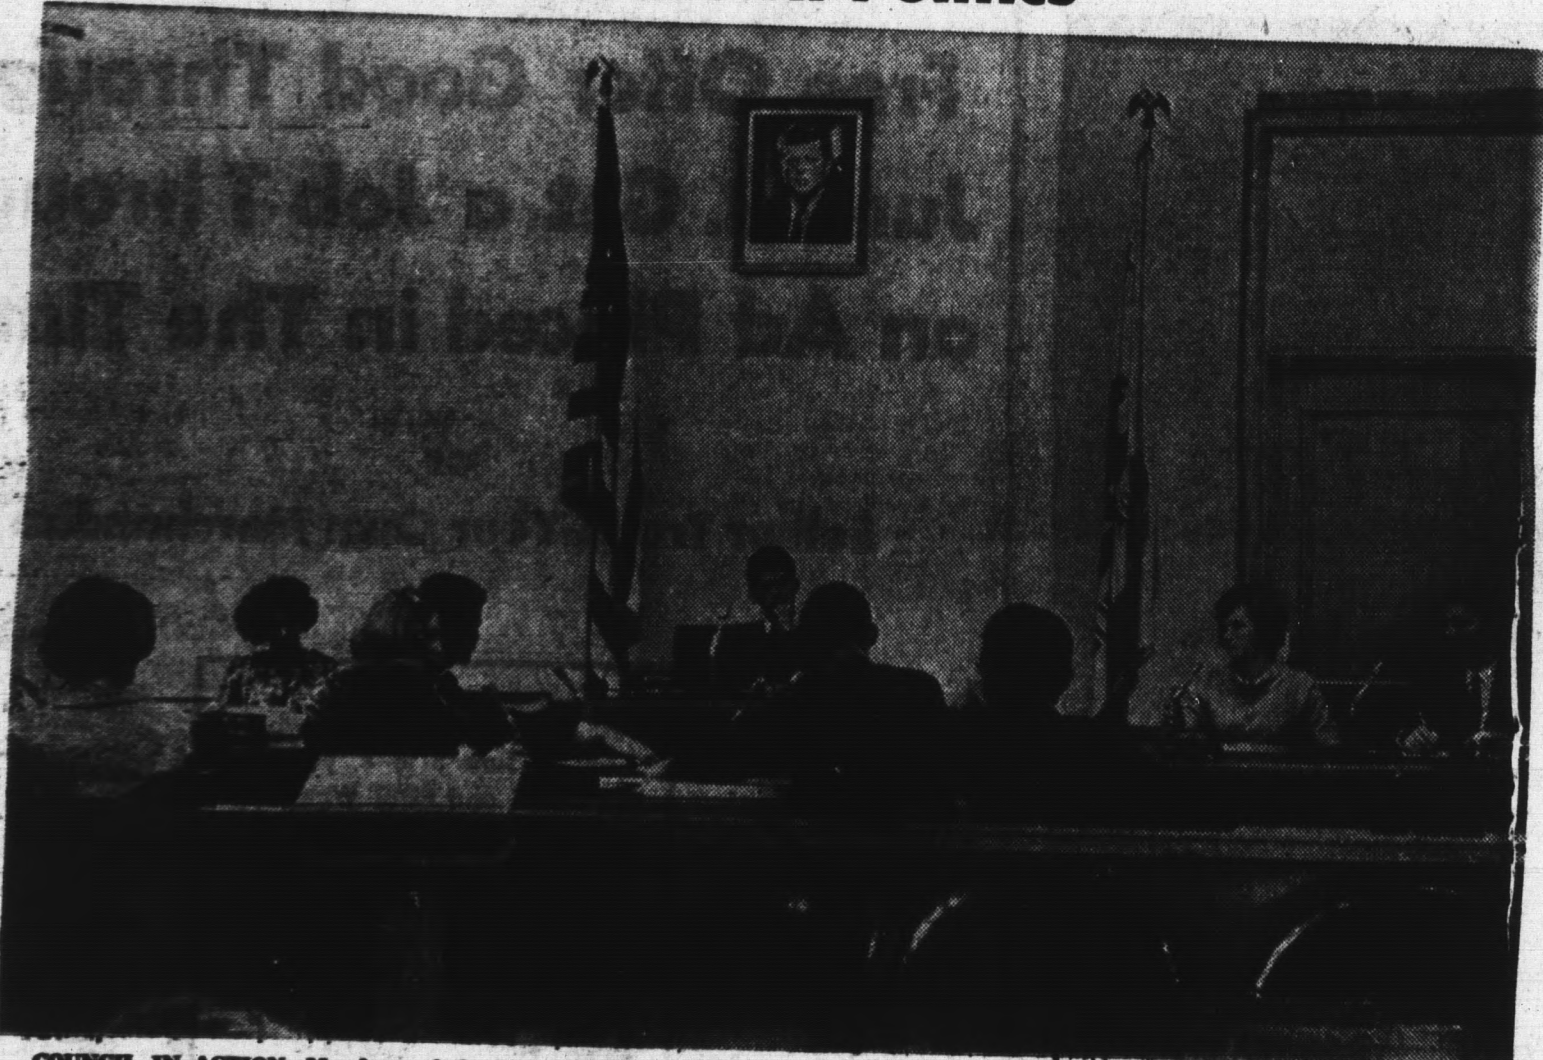

A Light Moment

LUNCHEON—The youthful politicians were guests of the city at a luncheon at Val's restaurant prior to taking the reins of the Daly City government for an afternoon. From left to right are Jefferson student and mayor for a day, Ray Archuleta, Mayor Joseph Verducci, and Westmoor student body president and acting councilman Mark Clark.

Practice in Politics

COUNCIL IN ACTION—Members of the city council, made up of students from Westmoor and Jefferson High schools, listen to a point made by acting city manager John Cummings. According to co-chairmen Willis Hawley and Alan Boyd, the students put a great deal of time and effort in actually putting forth legislation. The council met prior to the regular council meeting.

Introduction

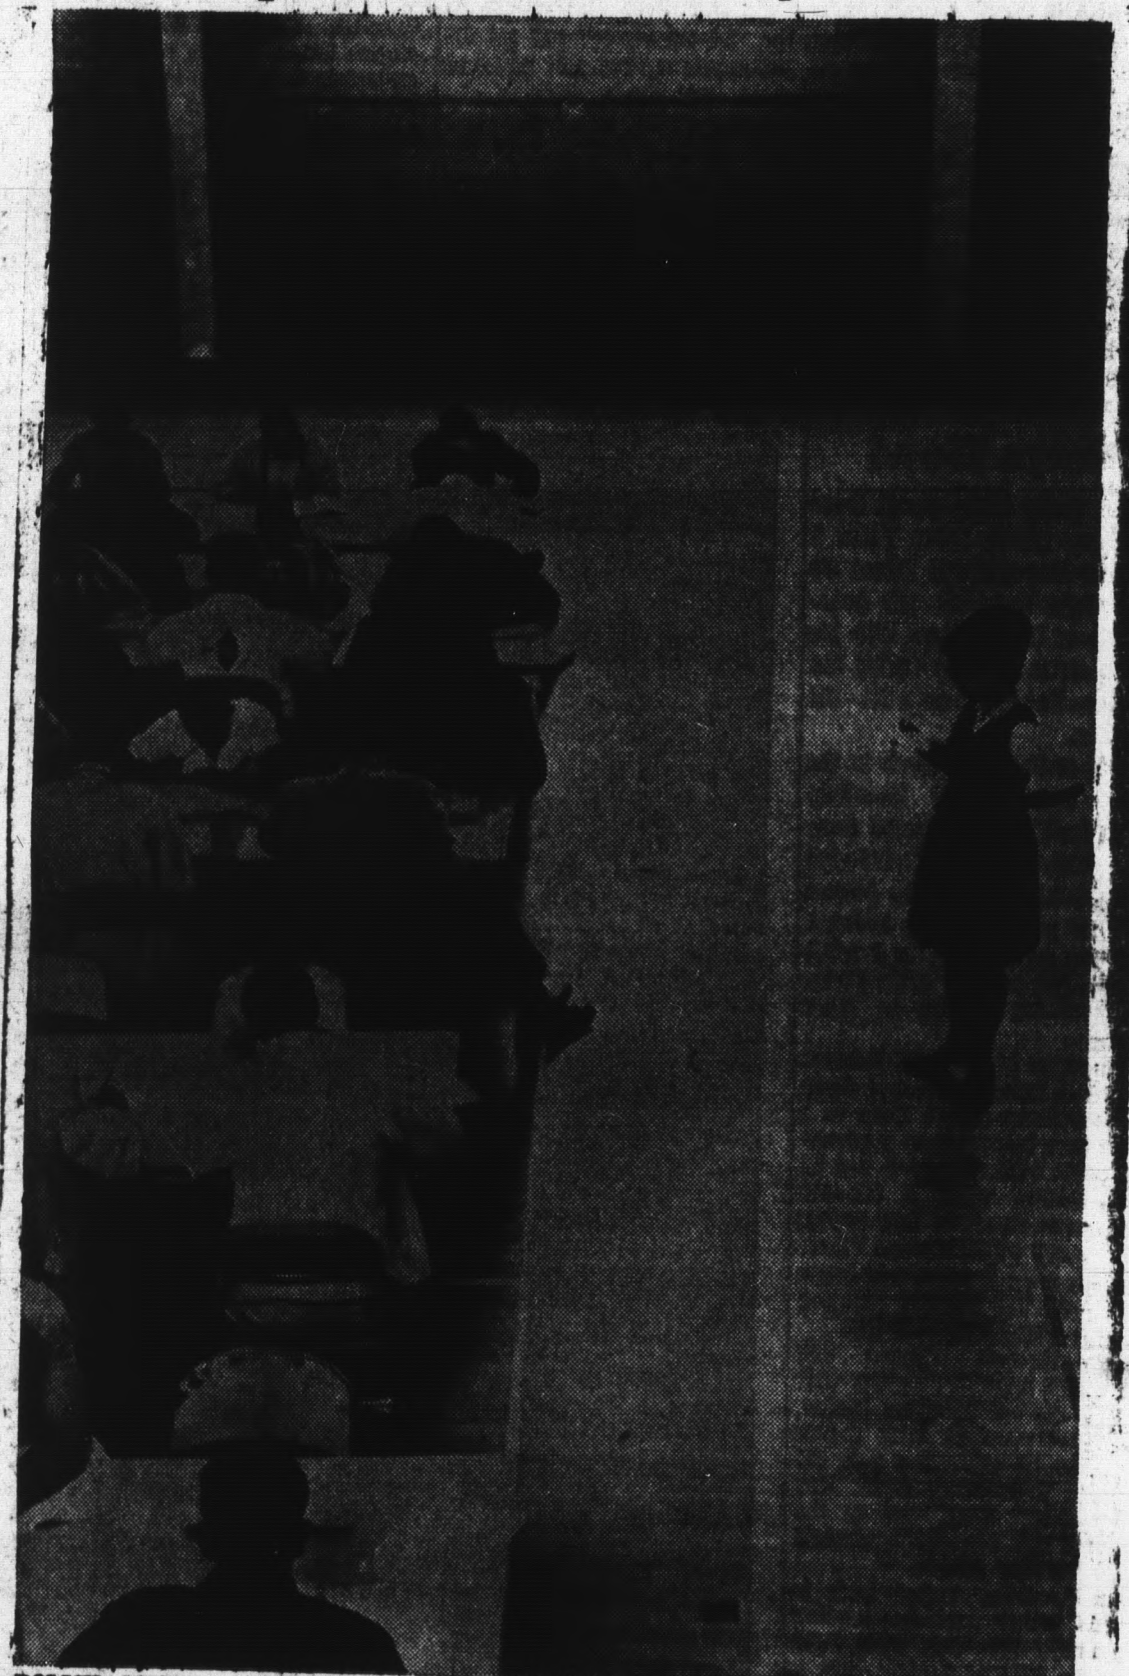

CO-CHAIRMAN of the Daly City "Youth in Government" program Willis Hawley, assistant to the city manager, introduces Finance Director Joseph Arch. Hawley and Alan Boyd, youth supervisor in the department of recreation, handled the details of the week-long program and advised the students of the technicalities and procedures used to run a city.

'The Shaft Is...'

INSPECTION—Senior engineer Ed Dennis explains the workings of a sewer to one of the water facilities which the students toured on the "Youth in Government" program. He finds an attentive listener in William Willoughby, who took the part of city engineer William Chapman.

'Open the Booklet, Now'

POLICE TEST — Jefferson student Evelyn Morabe reads instructions to a group of persons taking examinations for police positions in Daly City. The activity was part of the philosophy by the city this year in actually letting the students take part throughout the week prior to the student council meeting. Prior to this the students came in for only a day.

'It Was This Big'

LIBRARIAN Sam Chandler gestures to make a point in a library commission meeting. His able replacement during the city's "Youth in Government" program, Charlotte Corvo from Westmoor, looks on. In all cases the students met with their respective city officials to learn the workings of the department they would take over.

Building Shows $1-Million Dip

The estimated valuation of building construction in Daly City during the first four months of this year is almost a million dollars behind the valuation of building for the same period last year.

A total of 323 building permits were issued between January and April this year as compared to 393 permits during 1962, according to figures released by the building inspector's office.

GIL KHACHADOURIAN
Receives Citation

Top Award Presented

Gil Khachadourian of 20 Forest Grove drive, Daly City, has been awarded the Social Security administration's highest honor, the Commissioner's Citation. He is a field representative of the Social Security office in San Francisco. Khachadourian is the only person in the western United States to be awarded the citation this year, according to an announcement by Roy F. Nilsson, acting district manager of the San Francisco office.

"The citation is made for his (Khachadourian's) efforts in keeping the American public informed of its rights under Social Security," Nilsson said.

City Issues Permits for Construction

Forty-eight building permits for construction estimated to cost $385,200 were issued in the past two weeks by the Daly City Building Inspector's office.

Applications for 18 homes in the Southern Hills area by Wildwood Park incorporated, accounted for $248,610 of the total.

Included in the 48 permits were two for the First National Bank of Daly City. One permit was for the demolition of an existing building at 6600 Mission street to make way for the new bank building. The second permit was for a retaining wall.

Other permits were issued to Mr. and Mrs. James McCarthy, 468 Santa Barbara avenue, to add two bedrooms at basement level.

Roy Garcia, 1061 Brunswick street, to add aluminum siding. William Taylor, 789 Templeton street, 763 Templeton street, to build multiple dwelling houses. Alva John Reneau, 161 Oliver street, to repair wall, install vent.

Daniel Shelton, 612 Bellevue avenue, to add cast stone, aluminum siding.

Amnerys Fonseca, 461 San Diego avenue, to add cast stone, aluminum siding.

D. S. Wagers, 464 Bellevue avenue, to add cast stone, aluminum siding.

John Stanghellini, 22 Westpark drive, to build family room.

James V. De Costa, 89 Santa Ana avenue, to build rumpus room.

Henry A. Freeman, 308 Westlake avenue, to add basement rumpus room.

Richard F. Hocht, 479 Westmoor avenue, to build basement social room.

L. L. Monahan, 226 Hillside boulevard, to install overhead garage door.

Alice M. Bartola, 462 Bellevue avenue, to add cast iron stone, aluminum siding, replace front stairway.

L. R. Sawin, 157 Alexander street, to repair damage to walls.

Raul R. Lopez, 494 Southern Hills boulevard, to build play room in basement.

This year's permits had an approximate valuation of $2,500,726. The permits for the same period in 1962 were valued at $3,991,687.

Primary cause for the difference in valuation was in the building of new homes.

During the first four months in 1962, building permits for 175 new homes were issued, compared to only 54 this year.

The March total of 30 building permits for new houses, with a valuation of $438,720, exceeded March, 1962, when 20 permits with a valuation of $281,650 were listed.

During the month of February, 1962, 72 permits for new homes with an estimated valuation of $1,100,515 were issued. Only five permits were issued in February, 1963, with an estimated valuation of $100,000.

Also contributing to the difference was a permit for the construction of a 60-unit apartment house in January, 1962. The apartment house had an estimated valuation of $464,000.

Only one permit for a multiple-dwelling, a triplex, with an estimated valuation of $17,200 was issued in January, 1963.

Valuation of construction in March of this year exceeded the total recorded in January, February and April by more than $1-million.

During March, 122 permits were authorized for construction valued at $1,795,066. Permits issued in the other three months totaled 221. Estimated value of construction was $706,660.

Louanne's Datebook

By Louanne Heath

TODAY, by proclamation of Mayor Harold Fege, is American Field Service Day in Pacifica and the wind up of the fund raising campaign that has occupied the time and talents of many localites for many weeks.

The past few days more and more people have been seen wearing bright yellow daffodils to help promote the Champagne theater party and International Ball being staged tonight to raise money to bring an exchange student to Terra Nova High school. There is still a mystery centering about the significance of the colorful flowers, but Lyle Planje, of the AFS executive board, indicates that the daffodils and the film obtained by Mrs. George Mason, Carry on Nurse, have a connection. At any rate, Planje guarantees that everyone who attends tonight's gala will understand!

If you want to attend and still haven't found time to purchase tickets, check with the attendant in the box office of the Seavue theater, with employees in the Wells Fargo Bank or in the offices of the Chamber of Commerce. Mrs. Mason announced that any unsold reservations would be available through this afternoon in those locations at a cost of $5 per couple.

MRS. EDWIN SMITH of Westlake will make her home in Kansas for the next year while her husband is stationed in Greenland.

Mrs. Smith plans to remain in her parent's home while she is in Kansas.

THE JAMES WITT family, also of Westlake, is planning a move within the next few weeks.

Witt, who is an instructor in the new Woodrow Wilson High school in San Francisco, will move his family to a home on the Peninsula.

MR. AND MRS. EMORY LEBONVILLE plans to attend the recent Westview Improvement club's fourth annual ball had to be cancelled at the last moment.

Instead of dancing Lebonville spent the evening hours pacing a hospital corridor awaiting the arrival of a new son, Jay.

The Lebonville's, who are very active in Republican projects and the improvement club have two older children.

MARY AND JOHN PINELLI, Nina Varni, Mary Chisholm, Meredith Nino, Kathleen Piccinini, Ann Cleary, Sue Falconi and Carol Vanham all of Westlake will be among the many north Peninsula youngsters who will skate in the ice show, Ballads and Blades this weekend.

The show, a charity event to raise money for the St. Ignatius High school building fund, will present 300 young skaters at six performances in the gymnasium. Evening performances on Thursday, Friday and Saturday will begin at 7:30 p.m. and the matinees will be at 2:30 p.m. on Saturday and at 1:30 p.m. and 5:30 p.m. on Sunday.

This extravaganza, presented entirely by youngsters, always amazes and delights its audiences so plan to attend one of the six performances and take the kids, they'll love it! For information and tickets phone the Legg School of Ice Skating, JU 6-1300.

ROLAND CANDEE, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Candee, and a group of friends celebrated his tenth birthday in a somewhat subdued fashion.

A cast encasing one of his fingers somewhat curtailed Roland's activities but not his appreciation of cake and ice cream.

AT ANOTHER juvenile birthday party there were no broken bones to spoil the lively fun of a baseball game.

Stephen Hall and his guests spent Sunday afternoon at Westmoor High school playing ball and celebrating Stephen's tenth birthday.

PREPARATIONS of the all night graduation party at Terra Nova High school have gone into the final stages. Arrangements have been completed to show "Gidget Goes Hawaiian" during the evening and a giant stuffed tiger has been selected for presentation as the door prize.

MRS. JAMES BROWN, Mrs. Lawrence Rogers, Mrs. Lester Candee, Mrs. Arline Kaus, Mrs. Donald Andrews, Mrs. Monte Hill, Mrs. Nick Nicolaus, Mrs. William Ross and Mrs. Larry Burn, all of Westlake and South San Francisco are busy with lesson plans and craft projects, according to Mrs. Dorothy Sprecker, superintendent of the Vacation Church School program at Lakeside Presbyterian church.

The school will be in session each week day morning from June 17 to 28 and anyone interested in sending their children to a Presbyterian oriented vacation school should contact either Mrs. Burn at Plaza 5-0596 or Mrs. James Parsons, Juniper 7-6744, for details or to register a child.

THE PACIFICA CANCER DRIVE went way over the top of the area goal thanks to the devoted efforts of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Uhrig who were personally responsible for collection of more than $1000.

Uhrig, who recently saw a friend suffer the horrors of cancer, spent four days driving groups of teen-age volunteers to the uncovered sections of Pacifica to insure that the canvass was complete.

Sugar 'n' Spice

By Nell Norton

I GUESS there is nothing more flattering to the hostess than to have her guests ask for the recipe for a dish they have been served in her home. Mrs. Rose Walthard of 971 Southgate avenue, Daly City, tells me she has had this happy experience when she serves this deliciously different dish.

EGGPLANT NEAPOLITAN

- 1 lb. ground beef
- 1 clove of garlic, minced
- Olive oil or salad oil for frying
- 1 can stewed tomatoes (about one pound)
- 2 cans tomato sauce
- 1 pkg. onion soup mix
- 1/2 teas. oregano
- 1 medium-size eggplant (about 1 1/2 pounds)
- 2 eggs
- 1 Tbsp. water
- 1 cup fine dry bread crumbs
- 1/2 cup grated Parmesan cheese
- 1/2 pound Mozzarella cheese, thinly sliced

Brown half of meat with garlic in one Tbsp. olive oil, breaking up meat with a fork while it cooks. Stir in stewed tomatoes, tomato sauce, onion soup mix and oregano; cover; simmer 15 minutes. While this sauce is bubbling, pare eggplant, halve lengthwise, then cut crosswise into 1/4 inch slices.

Beat eggs slightly with water in a pie plate; sprinkle crumbs into another pie plate; dip eggplant into egg mixture, then in crumbs; brown on both sides in hot olive oil or salad oil in a large frying pan. Stir any remaining egg mixture and crumbs (not more than 1/4 cup) into the rest of the meat (remember you just used a half of the pound in the sauce) and form into small meatballs.

Make alternate layers of eggplant, Parmesan cheese and sauce in an eight-cup baking dish; top with ring of meat balls. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) for 30 minutes; top with slices of mozzarella cheese; bake five minutes longer, or until cheese melts and bubbles.

As you read this recipe, you can see that it does not come under the heading of "Quick and Easy" but Rose says it's a wonderful dish and well worth the extra time and effort it takes. The fact that it can be made ahead and frozen gives it an added point. If frozen, do not add the cheese until ready to serve. Finally, don't substitute any other cheese for mozzarella.

DESSERTS ARE always fun to make and a delight to eat. (If you can pretend that calories don't count.) And this one combines chocolate chips and a delish sauce in a particularly attractive form.

CHOCOLATE CHIP CAKE

- 2 Tbsp. shortening
- 3/4 cup sugar
- 1 egg
- 2 cups flour, sifted
- 2 1/2 teas. baking powder
- 1/2 teas. salt
- 1/2 teas. lemon extract
- 3/4 cup milk

6 ounces semi-sweet chocolate bits

Cream the shortening. Add sugar gradually and beat in the egg. Sift all dry ingredients together, and add alternately to the sugar-shortening mixture with the milk. Add flavorings and pour 1/3 into a greased cake pan or glass baking dish. Sprinkle 1/3 chocolate chip on top. Repeat the layers of batter and chips, ending with chips on top. Bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees for 30 to 35 minutes. Serve hot with whipped cream to which a bit of peppermint flavoring and a drop of green food coloring has been added.

Dr. Carlson is on furlough from his work at the Door of Life hospital in Ambo, Ethiopia. He heads both the hospital staff and a school associated with the hospital.

While on a year's leave, he has been attending the public health school of the University of California at Berkeley.

Dr. Carlson and his wife will return to Ethiopia in August. Mrs. Carlson also will speak at Sunday's program.

At Sunday's worship service at 11 a.m., the Rev. A. David Donnelly will talk on the subject: "Salvation by Grace."

Sunday will be the last day in the "Higher Goals" program in the church school.

Teenager Asks . . .

By JOE BAVARESCO

Dear Mr. Bavaresco:
I am 16 years old and my boyfriend has been drinking quite a bit. When we go to a drive-in with other kids, he always stops to buy some beer or liquor. He keeps telling me to drink too. I really like him. What shall I do? I don't want to break up with him. My parents are worried and so am I.
N. K.

Dear N. K.:
What do you do? You drop him. He obviously is not the kind of guy you would want to continue going with and it's not going to get any better; it will only get worse.

Tell him you don't like drinking and you don't like him drinking. If he continues, you continue walking—right out of his life. No good can come of this romance.

He will eventually drag you down with him. Ask him to stop, and if he respects you he will.

But don't blame him. Let me tell you who's to blame; the adults are. The adults who sell the liquor to teenagers; adults who don't do anything about it; and adults who set the example.

For instance, every movie has the drunk pictured as the life of the party. Mr. Funny Man himself. He is hysterically amusing. He gets all the attention. Just like smoking, drinking is supposed to, all of a sudden, make you a grown up adult—which every teenager wants to be.

Then comes the worst of all. The lowest form of degradation, the slob who sells liquor to teenagers. He is a great man to the drinking teenager.

But to the morgue he is the murderer who loaded the teenager to drive fast and kill himself in an auto wreck.

This is not an exaggeration. It's a fact. This man is subjecting teenagers to dangers they cannot begin to understand. Morals are shot, self-respect and respect of others is gone.

It becomes the first of many police records and violations. A record that will stay with you long into your adult life. Maybe you think I am getting harsh. Well no, parents who care for their children cannot get harsh enough.

The third group of adults who should be put in the same class are parents of drinking teenagers. If these parents cared for their children they would know that they were drinking and if they knew of their drinking and did nothing about it then I pity them both.

Because to know of a wrong and to do nothing about it, is condoning the wrong.

For the parents: Mr. and Mrs. Example, shape up. Stop sitting on your straight morals, sipping your martinis while your children are drinking beer.

Stop passing judgement on America's teenagers. They are only a product of what we create. Start paying a little more attention to your family as they grow.

When they come home from a date, greet them pleasantly and ask if they had a good time. Turn off the TV and listen to their programs for a change.

You might be in for a thriller of your own. Take an interest in their interests. Be a parent not a pal. They have enough pals. Grow up and be a parent. You just might like it.

The fortunate part of all this is that for the number of teenagers who drink, it is small compared to the number of fine young Americans who make up this teenage world.

Adults are quick to condemn the entire teenage circle for the few. This, unfortunately, is a habit that most people have.

But, I deal greatly with teenagers of all kinds, shapes, colors, and sizes. Each one is different and they constitute a group of people I firmly believe to be of a better class, morally and intellectually of any age group today.

So don't condemn all for the few. Moreover, condemn yourself for these few and be grateful for the many.

Remember, if you have problems you may send them to me, care of this paper, or simply to Joe Bavaresco, Camp Meeker, Calif.

Rutledge Chosen as Ram Speaker

Westmoor senior Jim Rutledge was chosen from among four competitors as senior class speaker for graduation night, June 14.

"Today the classroom, tomorrow the world" is the traditional theme for the speech.

Rutledge will compare the uncertainty of choice to the problem of John Henry, founder of the Smithsonian Institute in Washington, D.C., who found it difficult to choose between a pair of square-toed and round-toed shoes and decided on one of each.

Although the graduates have acted with such uncertainty many times, now, on the threshold of life, they can no longer afford it, he says.

Orations were delivered by competitors Rutledge, Steve Lerner, John Cummings, and Jack Petranker, to a panel of judges, four faculty members and four senior students.

Rutledge is a recent recipient of a Parent-Teacher association scholarship and is sports editor of the school paper.

Selected as alternate for class speaker is John Cummings. Cummings served on the student executive board this year as judge, and two weeks ago, he participated in Daly City's "Youth in Government" program as city manager.

Employment Agency for Teens Begins

The first teen-age employment agency of its kind in the nation, operated by the Teen-age Junior Chamber of Commerce, is now in high gear in Daly City.

Members of the chamber are processing scores of applications from teen-agers for summer employment.

Headquarters for the operation is in the office of Saxe Realty at 2384 Junipero Serra boulevard in Broadmoor.

Joseph Bavaresco, president of the Daly City-Colma Junior Chamber of Commerce who organized the teen-age group, said the employment agency has been averaging about 150 letters a week from teen-agers, employers and parents.

The agency is being operated on a voluntary basis. No fee is charged. Any teen-ager up to 18 years of age or who has not graduated from high school may participate.

Volunteer workers will begin placing teen-agers as of the close of school.

The workers urge employers with summer jobs to contact the agency.

The teen-age junior chamber meets the first and third Tuesday nights of each month at Colma K-6 school. Dances are held after the meetings.

Lehre Wins $100 Award

Recent recipient of the California Savings and Loan league $100 scholarship is Westmoor High school senior Ken Lehre.

A National Merit scholarship finalist, Lehre gained further recognition in winning the Bank of America achievement award as well as the Chamber of Commerce achievement award in science and mathematics.

In addition, Lehre's high grade point average of 3.9 has secured for him the University of California "Honors at Entrance," which is given entering freshmen who have outstanding academic records.

His high scholastic average has also enabled him to become a life member of the California Scholarship Federation.

Lehre is a junior member of the California Academy of Science and is president of the WHS Science club.

He won the American Chemistry society award, in recognition of his excellent grades and work in the field.

Bar Mitzvah to Be Celebrated

Howard Bronstein, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Bronstein of Westlake, will celebrate his Bar Mitzvah at Temple Judea Sabbath evening services Friday evening at 8:30.

Services will be held at the Hall of Flowers, Ninth avenue and Lincoln way, San Francisco.

Rabbi Herbert Morris and Cantor Harold Wachter will officiate.

Mr. and Mrs. Bronstein will host an Oneg Shabbat after the ceremony.

Bethel Church Hosts Revival

A nightly revival, with emphasis on the subject of the Holy Spirit and featuring the ministry of the Rev. W. J. Howells of Vancouver began Monday at Bethel church of Pacifica, Adobe drive and Higgins way in Pacifica.

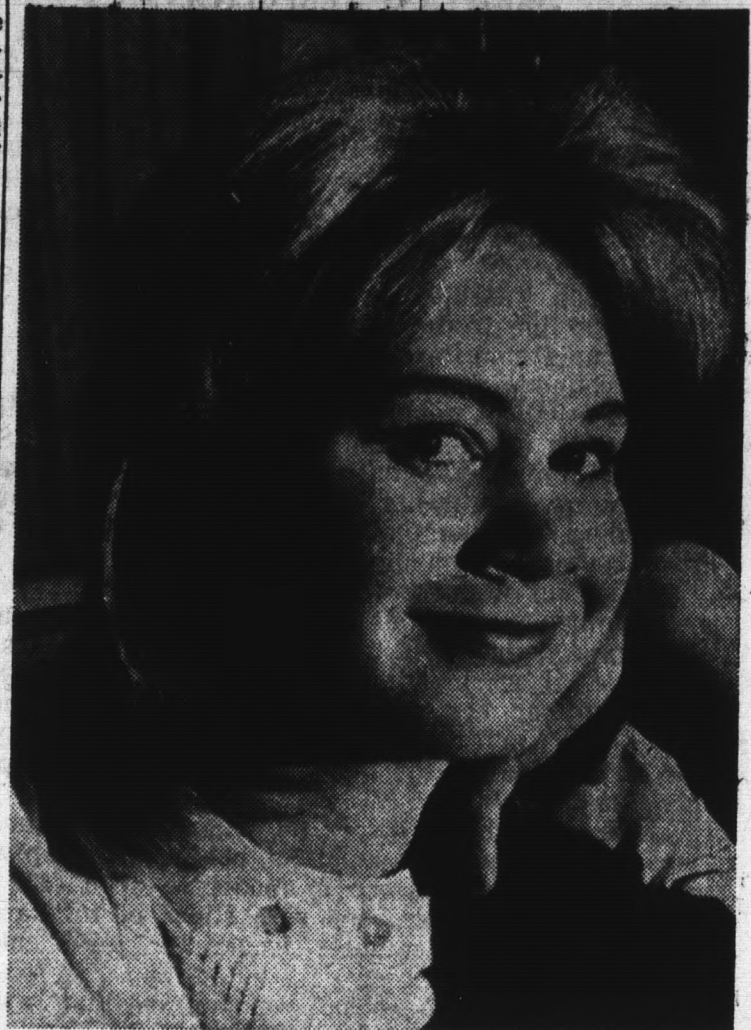

The Rev. Mr. Howells is an evangelist, Bible seminary teacher, convention and camp speaker, and has ministered in the United States, Canada and Great Britain.

The public is invited to attend these services.

Students Attend Career Confab

Three Westmoor High seniors and four Jefferson students motored to the Coyote Point campus of the College of San Mateo for the second annual High School Journalism Career Day conference sponsored by the Newspaper Publishers' association of San Mateo county in co-operation with the Northern California Professional chapter of Sigma Delta Chi.

Accompanied by journalism instructor, Mrs. Doris Lindfors, Westmoor students Charles Halinan, Jim Rutledge, and Ralph Henn enjoyed discussions varying from salaries earned by journalists to the policies of newspapers.

Jefferson instructor Ross Weinert was accompanied by Stephanie Damato, Larry Jones, Vic Ojakian and Sandy Gyle.

Keynote speaker for the event was Dr. Kenneth Stewart, journalism instructor at the University of California and the immediate past president of the American association for Education in Journalism who spoke at the noon luncheon, on "Serendipity—Finding what isn't sought."

Opening the conference in the first morning session in the CSM cafeteria were Dr. Julio Bortolazzo, president of the College of San Mateo; Howard Sanborn, president of the Newspaper Publishers' association, and Edmond J. Dodley, president of Sigma Delta Chi.

"Preparing for a Career in Journalism" was the topic of discussion for the general session in which the future journalists questioned a few of the journalism experts in a panel discussion.

The panel, moderated by Edwin W. Rice, business manager of the Advance Star of Burlingame consisted of Dooley, also the editor of the San Francisco Examiner; Clifford Weigle, chairman of the department of communications at Stanford university; Herbert Jack, lecturer in journalism at the University of California and former managing editor of the Madison, Wisconsin, Capital Times and Charles Moore, bureau chief of the San Francisco United Press International.

Following a coke break "Fields of Specialization" split the conference into two panels: Newspaper and News Services, moderated by Everett Bey, copublisher of the Millbrae Sun with Lieff Erickson, business editor of the San Francisco Associated Press and George Whitesell, managing editor of the San Mateo Times as panel members and the second group, Radio and Television with C. A. Burley, publisher of the Park as moderator and Chet Castleman, news editor at KFSO radio and Charles Stanyan, chief newsreel cameraman at FRON-TV as panel members.

To close the conference, the students enjoyed a fried chicken luncheon at which David N. Schutz, editor of the Redwood City Tribune was master of ceremonies and Dr. Stewart was Mrs. Jane Bonavito.

Another Show for Carol

CAROL VANHAM demonstrates form that has made her a familiar favorite with area ice shows in the past eight years. She'll be seen in six performances of a benefit show this week and Sunday.

Carol Skates Again

Ice Star Leads Busy Life

By LOUANNE HEATH
LOVELY, BLONDE Carol Vanham is a 16-year-old junior at Westmoor High school. She possesses charm, poise and a gracious manner that give her an aura of maturity that belies her years.

She maintains an enviable B-plus average in her college prep course, is a varsity cheer leader, a member of the Pep club, a bow officer in the Sky-line assembly of Rainbow girls, an occasional piano student and an outstanding figure skater who admits to having toyed with the idea of joining the Ship-stad's and Johnson's Ice Follies.

Carol is a familiar figure in the Bay Area. In the past eight years, she has appeared in 15 ice shows and is currently re-hearsing for her 16th engagement.

After she laces on her white blades to star in six performances of Ballads and Blades, the tenth anniversary show of the Phyllis and Harris Legg school of ice skating tomorrow through Sunday, she will be skating in her eighth show for charity.

Building Fund
This year, the school skaters will be raising funds for the St. Ignatius building fund.

In the past eight years, Carol has appeared in Christmas ice shows in the Emporium and has taken part in 128 productions, sometimes skating on conventional skates and sometimes appearing on skates separated by slender steel stilts from her custom-made boots by more than a foot.

THOUGH CAROL'S grace gives the impression that she is effortlessly gliding over the ice, she admits that it takes a lot of practice to present a perfect performance. Sandwiched among her school and social activities are at least two, long practice sessions and one lesson each week.

"My girl friend interested me in skating," Carol said, "and then she gave it up!"
"When my mother heard that the Leggs were going to open a school in San Francisco, she asked me if I'd like to take lessons. I said yes and I've been skating ever since," Carol explained with a happy little laugh. "It is something I love."

Time-Consuming
Skating is a time-consuming hobby, not only for Carol (she spent over four hours at one rehearsal for Blades and Ballads and the remainder of rehearsals will run at least as long) but for her mother as well.

"When Carol first began skating," commented Mrs. Thomas Vanham, "I made all of her costumes but it just got to be too much for me. I now have a dressmaker do all the fitting and I do the finishing."

"Mothers sew on all those tiny little beads and sequins and things like that," said Carol with a good deal of warmth in her tone.

"My favorite one was a Chinese costume that I wore when I danced to 'Grant Avenue.' It had a straight skirt with slits on each side and was made out of a pretty green brocade. The jacket was the same brocade, only in white, and it was encrusted with green beads and iridescent sequins. Mother sewed on all of those little tiny things."

WHAT DOES this talented girl of 16 plan for in the future?
"Well I plan to go to college because I want my education no matter what I do," Carol continued thoughtfully.

"She likes to help other people," interjected Mrs. Vanham.

"Yes, I think some kind of social work would be interesting," Carol said. "I'll go on with my skating lessons until I finish high school anyway. After that I may not have any time for practice. I've thought about the Follies but it would have to be after college and that is a long way off. Too far off to worry about yet."

Clowning It Up

NURSE Virginia Schloegel, holding a hypodermic needle, appears ready to jab Pacifica mayor Harold Feyge as Councilman George Mason holds up his hands in mock protest. The clowning was all part of the fun leading up to a theater-champagne party tonight, sponsored by the Pacifica branch of the American Field service at the Sea Vue theatre. Mayor Feyge is inspecting a poster advertising "Carry-on Nurse," which will be shown during the party. (Post-Times photo)

Burglary Suspect Arrested

An alert Daly City policeman early Friday morning arrested a burglary suspect after he had heard the sound of breaking glass while on patrol.

Booked for investigation of burglary was William J. Penn, 34, of 905 Skyline drive, Daly City. He was released in $255 bail. Arraignment was set for Monday.

Patrolman Bert Hunter said he had seen the suspect standing in front of the Daly City Saw and Lawnmower shop at 1 Washington street. A large plate glass window had been broken. The suspect was bleeding, Hunter said.

The patrolman said the suspect first had attempted to hide behind a small sign when he approached.

"One of Our Best Weeks"

Pacific Parade

By DON MILLER

THE SOUND of thunder—not the celestial variety but that produced by an audience—rocked San Francisco's Opera House Thursday night in one of the most remarkable programs ever produced by the San Francisco Symphony association.

The occasion was the farewell concert of maestro Enrique Jorda and it was a memorable one from two standpoints:

The program Jorda chose for his good-bye—the grandiose Berlioz "Requiem."

The spontaneous demonstration of tribute for Jorda at the end from an audience—a great many members of which had usually walked out at the last note on previous concerts.

But first, let's consider the "Requiem." It's one of those concert hall dazzlers that, mounted in a fashion that Hector Berlioz had intended, wows the ear drum for the goodly part of two hours.

The Berlioz score calls for four brass choirs, that is, four groupings of wind instruments—particularly trumpets and trombones. These are supported by a raft of kettle drums and by the strings, woodwinds and the horns of the orchestra.

Well, Enrique had them all in high gear Thursday night and the effect was nothing short of electrifying. When the maestro turned toward the balcony in the second movement, some patrons wondered what was going on.

Jorda, however, was merely giving two of the brass choirs, seated upstairs, their cue. When the ensuing fanfare burst forth, it seemed as if every brass instrument in the Bay Area sounded forth.

ENRIQUE JORDA Berlioz uses these famous choirs in three parts of his work. And each time they blared forth Thursday night, you could almost see the walls of Jericho tumbling down.

The brass finished their chores before intermission and so, understandably, the remainder of the "Requiem" sort of slid down hill, despite some fine tenor solo work by Raymond Mantou.

THAT FINISHED the concert but certainly not the evening. For many, the best part began at that point. It started out as standard applause for the performance, for the orchestra, and for the 400 young people who constituted four choirs jammed on the Opera House stage.

The directors of the choirs took their bows but the audience, it was only too apparent, was waiting for Jorda.

When he strode from the wings, 3000 concertgoers rose as one in a stirring roar of acclamation—not so much for the concert he had just finished but for the nine years of service he had given music lovers of the Bay Area.

Now this all seemed rather remarkable to us for it was the first time in two years of concert-going that we'd seen or heard such a demonstration but even more significant, the audience was largely pretty much the same audience that had attended Thursday night concerts all year, yet had displayed some of the most incredible manners.

By this we mean rudeness of the worst sort. It's understandable that a few members of every audience will, for some pressing reason or another, have to leave a performance before the last clap of applause has faded away.

But when you see the SAME people every week hurrying up the aisle as if the ship of state were about to founder, it leaves a pretty bad taste.

Whether these people are Jorda supporters or not, the maestro of San Francisco's Symphony Orchestra has deserved a far better brand of audience manners in his nine years here than he's received.

In fact, things have got so bad some nights that Jorda, after leading what the critics agreed later was a fine performance, has come out for a third or fourth bow only to find the main floor of the Opera House so depleted you wondered if they weren't handing out refunds in the lobby.

WE'RE NOT URGING a deafening din for every performer that comes along, be he absolutely terrible, mediocre or excellent. Rather, a modicum of consideration for a performer who, regardless of his ability, has undoubtedly put a great amount of time and preparation into a performance.

In other words, don't walk out on him. If you're displeased, a bit of polite applause should suffice.

Evidently, the audience Thursday night was riddled with guilty consciences for hardly a listener ventured up the aisles when the "Requiem" came to an amen. From the ovation that Jorda received anyone who had dared try an early exit probably would have been sacked before he got to Row X.

Now, of course, Jorda is gone and next season we'll sit down and watch the former Buffalo Philharmonic maestro, Josef Krips, lead the symphony. But will this change REALLY change things?

By that we mean, will the factors that led to Jorda's resignation (he resigned rather than continue on and be fired) undo Krips as they inexorably undid Jorda?

There's been a lot of hot talk around the Bay Area in the past year or so on the merits of Jorda's conducting, his choice of scores and his ability to keep the musicians firmly under his baton.

Enrique, it's apparent, has a militant legion of supporters and just as equally militant a legion of dissidents.

Whether his musicality is of the caliber that the Bay Area's music lovers are entitled to is beyond our province. We're neither music critics nor musicologists.

WE HAVE, however, been hearing a lot of opinions and one of the most oft-stated tenets seems to be the contention that Jorda is leaving San Francisco—not so much because he wasn't a good musician but because he was unable—and unwilling—to cow-tow to the society crowd.

If this is so, it's without a doubt a scathing commentary on the state of music culture in our area.

If the rise or fall of a symphony conductor—and consequently the caliber of concert music we are to hear—depends upon the ability of the maestro to bow and scrape to the mink and afternoon tea set, then it's about time we shelved good music and went back to jungle drums.

A Queen Reigns

New Monarch for Babe Ruth Loop

By Louanne Heath
Pretty, chestnut-haired Lynn Cutcombe, looking like a picture of the typical American teenager, was crowned Pacifica's Babe Ruth Queen for 1963 at the climax of the second annual queen contest and variety show sponsored by the Babe Ruth league of Pacifica.

Fourteen-year-old Lynn won a rousing ovation in the talent segment of the contest when she played "I Left my Heart in San Francisco" and "What Kind of Fool Am I" on her accordion and then went on to win the judges' votes in the poise and public speaking divisions of the competition.

Runnersup in the contest to Lynn Cutcombe were Sandra White, Donna Van Sickle, and Jolene Beran. Judging was by Lloyd Sitts, president of the Pacifica chamber of commerce; Al Rosenberg, operator of the Linda Mar paint store; Tony Desanto, a director of the Pacifica Sweethearts; James Cooper of the Pacifica Park, Beach and Recreation department and Mrs. Betty Steinert, outgoing president of the Pacifica Little league auxiliary.

LYNN, WHO plans to study medicine, and Little league Princess Holly Hall were formally presented to the public during the Miss Pacifica pageant while their proud parents and sponsors watched from the audience.

"We have always thought of our daughter as wonderful," beamed Lynn's proud mother, Mrs. Philip Speck of Vallejo. "but it is really a thrill to know other people feel she is something special, too."

"After the judge's choice was announced we tried to get to her to tell her how proud and happy we were, but there was such a mob of well wishers crowding about her we couldn't get through," Mrs. Speck stated. Lynn, who was crowned by last year's Babe Ruth queen, Pamela Monin, was competing in the queen contest for the second time. She has made a number of public appearances with the Westlake accordion band and as a soloist at many local social events.

JOSEPH ORTEGA, president of the men's organization of the Babe Ruth league, the sponsoring group, announced that Queen Lynn's first official act will be to throw out the first ball of the season during the league's opening day ceremonies, scheduled to begin at 10 a.m. tomorrow. The festivities will be held on White field, in back of the Pillar of Fire church.

According to Ortega, Pacifica's Mayor Harold Feyge, the American Legion, the local Sea Scout troop, the Pacifica Sweethearts and numerous other civic and social leaders will be on hand to assist Queen Lynn in launching the newly expanded league upon the spring season.

This year, according to Ortega, will be the first one in which teams from Half Moon Bay have been included in the league. The addition of the new teams will increase the league to 10 teams with 150 boys between ages 13 and 15 participating.

All the teams will be on hand tomorrow to take part in five games of two innings each. This will introduce all boys to baseball fans, Ortega said.

Boy Struck by Car Near Home

David Vidales, 5, of 462 Templeton avenue, Daly City, suffered a bruised right knee Saturday when he was struck by a car near his home.

Police identified the driver of the car as Cheyenne Hurst, 30, of San Francisco. He reported the boy had dashed in front of his auto.

Hows and Whys of Using Frozen Foods

Frozen foods are sturdy products needing the same intelligent handling given to any fresh food-stuff. You don't leave berries, fresh vegetables or chicken on the kitchen table in the hot sun-shine of a summer's day. If not needed, returning to the freezer to be used immediately, they are put in the refrigerator. As the National Association of Frozen Food Packers explain it, frozen foods are no different, except that their storage-place is a freezer and freezer compartment of a refrigerator instead of the refrigerator itself.

But because frozen foods have had very special processing and keep best at low temperatures, guidelines for handling them intelligently can clarify whatever confusion you may feel.

1. Frozen foods stored in the freezer or freezer section of refrigerator will retain their good quality for months—or even longer if zero temperature is constantly maintained by infrequent opening of doors. But ice cube compartment storage should be for only a few days, as its temperature is higher and it fluctuates.

2. Frozen foods that have been defrosted, if still cold to the touch, may be used immediately or refrozen. However, refreezing may result in some change of flavor.

3. Frozen foods, once they have been cooked, may be stored in the refrigerator like other leftovers.

4. Directions for heating, cooking or any other essential preparation on frozen food packages should be read and followed. Labels also listing ingredients in order to prominence and give inspection designation where required, approved product designation where required by law and may include serving suggestions, recipes, and menu ideas.

Then use packages with earliest dates first.

Canned Gravy Spices Omelet

The egg qualifies as a ranking natural "convenience food." It's a food of many faces—by itself, as an ingredient, as a garnish. Versatility is its characteristic . . . and this attribute is the one most demanded by home-makers. How natural, then, that the egg and a canned food . . . should meet in a delicious dish fit for the most finicky guest. For a palate-pleasing supper dish serve this vegetable omelet with chili mushroom gravy sauce. The tender omelet is filled with a creamy mixture of sour cream and mixed vegetables. Over this goes a tangy sauce of chili sauce. With the toughest job done for you (just open the can and find rich, smooth gravy to be heated) you will find this glamorous dish easy on the time, budget, and talents.

After the family has registered its approval, don't file the recipe at the back of the box. It makes a sophisticated brunch dish, too. In either case, serve it with a tart fruit salad and lots of hot scones (made from a mix).

CHILI MUSHROOM GRAVY SAUCE
1 can (10½ ounces) mushroom gravy
1 tablespoon chili sauce
In saucepan, combine gravy and chili sauce. Heat, stirring now and then. Makes 1½ cups.

VEGETABLE OMELET
8 eggs
½ cup milk
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
½ cup cooked mixed vegetables
½ cup sour cream
In bowl, beat eggs, milk, and seasonings together. Heat butter in skillet; pour in egg mixture.

DAMAGE REPORTED
Dennis Sheehy Sr. of 9 Zeta Manor reported to Daly City police over the weekend that someone had broken the windshield of his car, parked in front of his home.

Cook slowly. As undersurface becomes set, start lifting it slightly with spatula to let uncooked portion flow underneath and cook. Combine vegetables and sour cream; place on ½ of omelet. When omelet is cooked but still moist, loosen edges and bottom; fold ½ over and roll onto platter. Pour sauce over. Makes 4 servings.

Bachelors Get Assist In Kitchen

Frozen foods are for bachelor men and girls and senior citizens who cook just for themselves—often with limited equipment. Freezer cabinets in markets offer attractive, flavorful, nutritious fare for every taste.

What live-aloners could prepare the one-serving meals now being frozen? These fine dishes, American and foreign, combining unusual ingredients in intricate ways, often need special skills and equipment.

When vegetables and fruits are frozen, single servings are easy to prepare. Wrap part of a package of vegetables in foil and oven-cook. Divide package of fruits, defrost, and use plain or with ice cream.

Cube Steaks Barbecue, a Fun Meal

Have fun with a family dinner by presenting one of the favorite flavor additions for meat . . . a barbecue sauce.

The meat choice is beef cubed steaks, so popular with home-makers for their ease of preparation. You may call them "minute" steaks. The meat has been cubed by a cubing machine to make it tender.

You could speedily cook cubed steaks by pan-frying or pan-broiling. This time, to make it special, the meat is braised in the barbecue sauce. The nippy sauce flavor will then blend with the beef.

Barbecued Cubed Beef Steaks
8 cubed beef steaks
¼ cup flour
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
6 tablespoons lard or drippings
1 medium onion, chopped
2 tablespoons brown sugar
¼ cup lemon juice or vinegar
1 cup catchup
2 tablespoons brown sugar
¼ cup lemon juice or vinegar
1 cup catchup
2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
1 cup water
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
Combine flour, 1 teaspoon salt and ¼ teaspoon pepper. Dredge steaks with seasoned flour. Brown in lard or drippings. Add chopped onion and brown lightly. Mix remaining ingredients and pour over steaks. Cover tightly and cook slowly until meat is tender and sauce thickens, about 45 minutes. 8 servings.

With Bacon, Macaroni Dish Tempts

"With bacon" can be the key to a new taste thrill. Try it with macaroni and cheese. Here is the recipe.

Macaroni and Cheese with Bacon
Giant Salad Bowl
Fruit Beverage
MACARONI AND CHEESE WITH BACON
12 slices (about ½ pound) bacon
1 package (8 ounces) macaroni and cheddar cheese

Remove bacon from refrigerator ahead of cooking time so slices may be separated. Arrange bacon on large broiling rack (or use 2 small ones) so slices do not overlap. Bake in a hot (400 degrees) oven 10 minutes; no need to turn. Make up macaroni and cheese and bake according to package directions. Reheat bacon in oven for a few minutes after macaroni casserole comes out.

Wednesday, May 29, 1963

The Post-19

SAN MATEO ELKS YOUTH TALENT CONTEST
Talented young musicians and artists from the junior high and senior high schools of San Mateo county recently had their artistic efforts recognized by the San Mateo Elks lodge No. 1112.
Exalted Ruler Al Chicchi and youth committee chairman, Joseph K. Pidd, planned and conducted this challenge to San Mateo county's artistically inclined youth in keeping with the Elks' tradition of supporting and encouraging youth activities of merit.

The youngsters who entered the contests competed in groups according to grade in school. Winners were selected in each of three groups for both the music and art categories. Pre-high school (junior high) seventh and eighth graders formed one group, high school freshmen and sophomores another, and juniors and seniors the third group.

The music contest was held on Saturday, April 27. Judging this contest were: Walter Haderer and Frederick Roher, representatives of the College of San Mateo music department; and John Toms, San Francisco State college music department. The judges selected the following winners from the fine showing of talent which they were privileged to review:

Even French Need Advice To Lovelorn
PARIS — Foreigners may think that French lovers are wise and all-seeing. But the popularity of advice to the lovelorn columns in newspapers and magazines here shows the French have their share of the problems of "amour."
One French "Dorothy Dix" is Marcelle Segal who gives out advice in the women's magazine "Elle" with a unique Gallic flavor.

A 60-year-old grandmother, for example, wrote that her husband, 63, has acquired a mistress. Although the couple quarrelled over the other woman, the husband continued to have his household of three, or "menage a trois," as they call it in this country.
The wife asked columnist Segal, "Should I divorce him?"
The husband is "without strength" 60 "you must have strength," Mme. Segal replied.
"Decide which you prefer: an amiable husband, a comfortable life, an appearance of happiness, or a divorce, solitude, a broken family, the rupture of 35 years of cherished habits."

"What is the least worse? You are too realistic not to see that in divorcing him, you punish yourself. Let the poor fool go his way—he can't go far."
Suspects Husband
A letter from a 24-year-old wife said she suspected her husband was in love with her best friend. "Your husband is perhaps faithful, your friend probably loyal," the advice was. "Do not search to make your suspicions a certainty by playing detective. You will be happier. Furthermore, it's a good practice, whether they are faithful or not."
Then there was a letter from a young man who had been in love with a beautiful girl in Paris for six months.
But "one day in front of a night club on the Rue Pigalle I recognized her in a photo as a striptease dancer."
"This was a shock for me..." the anguished man wrote.
Mme. Segal replied to "go to see the cabaret show to see if it is she."
"If it isn't, the incident is closed," she wrote. "If it is she, I will say to you only that foolish jobs are done often by brave people. I remember one nude dancer who, when dressed, was a modest girl, a good wife and mother. She wore her costume of Eve, with seriousness. It was her work outfit!"

Teen-Agers
Teen-agers with love and parent problems unburden their hearts to "Elle" and other publications more often than other age groups. One girl, 17, wrote "Elle" that she was in love with a 18-year-old "gadabout" and "concealed fellow" and wondered how to win "this rare pearl."
Mme. Segal snapped he was no rare pearl.
"Show him a pin but don't stick him with it," she advised. "If he is a gadabout, follow his 'races' with interest but don't take part in it. Observe the starters, make your bets but never be in the race."

Mr. and Mrs. San Mateo County Taxpayer:

YOUR VOTE ON JUNE 4th

May Be The Most Important Ballot

You Cast In The Next 30 Years!

SAN MATEO COUNTY INDUSTRY PROVIDES 100,000 jobs which return an annual payroll of $575,000,000

SAN MATEO COUNTY WITH ITS EXPANDING INDUSTRIAL ECONOMY HAS ACHIEVED THE LOWEST TAX RATE OF ANY MAJOR COUNTY IN CALIFORNIA. INDUSTRY HAS BEEN PAYING A SUBSTANTIAL PART OF YOUR TAX BILL!

Now, this tax-producing industry is being strangled!
Workers cannot reach their places of employment safely
and in reasonable time

Approval of the $35,000,000 bond issue to finance the City-County Highway Plan is absolutely essential if San Mateo County is to survive as an industrial business community.

Leaders of Labor, Government and Industry
Urge Your Support of This VITAL MEASURE

YOUR APPROVAL JUNE 4th of the $35,000,000 HIGHWAY BOND ISSUE WILL BRING YOU $49,192,000 IN BENEFITS

Your "Yes" vote will make available for improving San Mateo County's Highway System these funds:
Bond monies	$35,000,000
County gas tax funds to be used on a "pay-as-you-go" basis from existing revenues	5,204,000
Matching monies from:
State Public Utilities Commission
Southern Pacific Company
State Division of Highways, etc.	8,988,000
TOTAL	$49,192,000

The projects to be completed under the City-County Highway Plan for San Mateo County will provide convenient access to State Freeways and will serve major intercity and intracity traffic movements.

The City-County Highway Plan is a carefully conceived program based on existing and anticipated traffic needs in San Mateo County.

It was developed from a study by George S. Nolte Consulting Engineers, Stanford Research Institute, D. Jackson Faustman and Stone & Youngberg.

This important engineering study marks the first time that the Cities and the County have acted in unison to solve their multiple road and traffic problems.

FINANCING PROGRAM

$35,000,000 general obligation bonds (amortized over a 20-year period.)
Up to $1,000,000 a year—a total of $4,600,000 for the first seven years—to be applied to interest and principal requirements from county sales tax and interest on unexpended balance derived from bond sales.

Property tax revenues will be used to meet remainder of interest and principal requirements, under the following schedule:

There will be no increase in tax rate in first year	(1963-64)
Only 1.8c will be required in the second year	(1964-65)
4.5c	third year (1965-66)
7.5c	fourth year (1966-67)
9.8c	fifth year (1967-68)
11.3c	sixth year (1968-69)
11.5c	seventh year (1969-70)

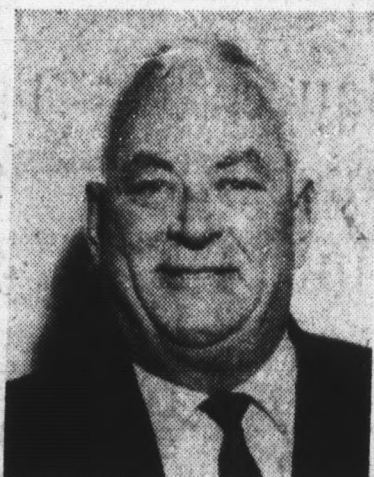

Tax rates will be gradually reduced thereafter.
This means that the cost to the average home owner will not exceed .44 cents a month (10 cents a week) which will be more than offset by savings in automobile operating expense.

"The first and vital step toward solving this problem is the passage of the $35,000,000 bond issue in June. From a financial standpoint, this is an opportunity that may never come our way again."
Supervisor James V. Fitzgerald, chairman Greater Highways Committee

"Adequate roads are our most important asset. This program will give San Mateo County the lateral connections that are so badly needed. We can't be saddled with roads that were here when the county was established."

W. H. Diederichsen, Business Mgr., International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers Local No. 617; Vice President, S.M. Central Labor Council

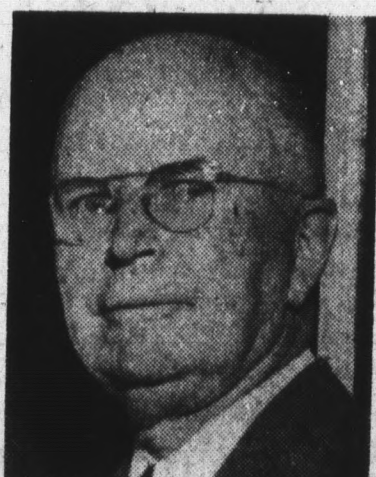

"Without good roads, San Mateo County cannot grow. A county without growth is one without expanding job opportunities and increasing payrolls. New state and federal freeways are scheduled but they won't do us any good unless we can provide the roads to get on and off of them."

Henry P. Schwab, President, Building and Construction Trades Council of San Mateo County; President, Teamsters 216

"The proposed program for city-county highways is thoroughly justified and warrants full support by the citizens of this county."

"The many fine public officials who have developed the concept of a coordinated city-county program deserve great credit."

William F. Morton, President Governmental Research Council; Past President, S.M. County Development Assn.

"The City-County Highway Bond Issue is one of the most important questions to come before the electorate in many years. I am happy to give my complete support to it. I urge all citizens to vote with me on June 4 in favor of this measure."

Assemblyman Leo J. Ryan
27th District

APPROVAL OF THIS VITAL MEASURE WILL SAVE YOU MONEY AND VALUABLE TIME

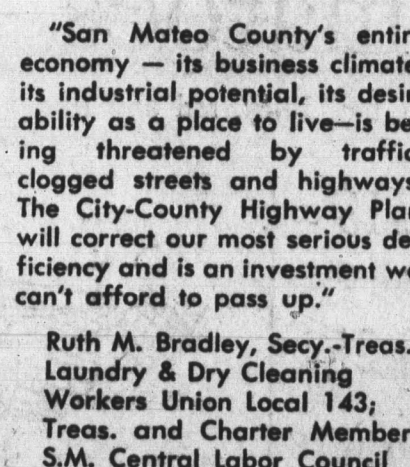

IT COULD SAVE YOUR LIFE

*Grade Separations

"Without adequate arterial highway routes, which the City-County Highway Plan provides, our new state freeways will fail to solve our congestion problems. San Mateo County is in grave danger of becoming a 'has been' area for industrial development."

Paul B. Bacon, President Coca-Cola Bottling Co. of San Mateo; past president, Peninsula Manufacturers Assn.

"San Mateo County's entire economy — its business climate, its industrial potential, its desirability as a place to live—is being threatened by traffic-clogged streets and highways. The City-County Highway Plan will correct our most serious deficiency and is an investment we can't afford to pass up."

County Road Bonds Ready for Vote

A $38-million bond issue for 28 road projects in San Mateo county will be placed before the voters Tuesday.

A resolution endorsing the measure and urging the voters to give it their full support was adopted by the San Mateo county Council of Mayors at a meeting at the Villa Chartier in San Mateo.

The general obligation bonds would be amortized over a 20-year period.

The city-county road plan was conceived by the Greater Highway committee of San Mateo county and developed by the George S. Nolte Consultant firm of engineers.

The plan has received the endorsement of business, labor, civic and government leaders throughout the county.

Three projects are within the boundaries of Daly City. They are:

Construction of a four-lane road from Lake Merced boulevard to Park Plaza drive, the widening of an extension of Sullivan avenue from Eastmoor avenue to Southgate avenue, and the extension of Southgate avenue from Cerro drive to Junipero Serra freeway.

An underpass at Lake Merced boulevard and Alemany boulevard would separate traffic at what engineers have called "an impossible intersection."

The Sullivan avenue extension is designed to service the new Mary's Help hospital and the extension of Southgate avenue will provide the St. Francis Heights area with an eastern entrance from Junipero Serra boulevard.

Two other projects, which will directly affect Daly City are the extension of Hickey boulevard from Junipero Serra boulevard to Skyline boulevard and the widening of Hillside boulevard from Market street in Daly City to Holly street in South San Francisco.

The Hickey extension would go through the Christen Ranch lands and would provide Pacifica with its first east-west lateral.

Pacifica Mayor Harold Feyge called the passage of the bond issue "necessary to provide much-needed links with the east side of the Peninsula."

Coast Nike Transfer Set

Pacifica and Castro Valley Nike installations will be officially turned over to the national guard in change of command ceremonies June 28 at the Pacifica base.

The Nike Hercules bases have been staffed by regular army forces. National guardsmen have been in training at the Pacifica base for the past year.

Invitations to the ceremony have been sent to civilian and military dignitaries, according to Capt. Roger Harris, army base commander.

"Now that we are about to get our coastal freeway, the next important steps are the cross-country laterals," he said.

The need for lateral arteries is accentuated, Verducci said, by forecasts for the next 30-year period which show the population in the county nearly doubling and the job opportunities increasing at an even greater rate.

"We have already been warned by leaders of both industry and labor that new industry is not coming to San Mateo county unless we get our road system in shape," he said.

The Sharp Park road will be widened to four lanes from Skyline boulevard west to the Skyline Parkway.

The roadway would give Linda Mar residents another route out of the city. They were completely isolated during last October's flood.

Skyline Parkway would be improved by the construction of a

Malpractice Case Filed

A Daly City chiropractor is named defendant in a $10,000 malpractice suit filed in superior court on behalf of an elderly patient.

The suit states that the plaintiff, Mrs. Edith Witt, 71, went to the defendant, Herbert O. Weber, last June 6 for treatment of tension of the neck and back. The suit alleges that Dr. Weber treated her "violently, unskillfully, carelessly and negligently and without ordinary care," with the result that she suffered injuries to her chest cage, including two broken ribs. Her attorney, John R. Sherman, said Mrs. Witt lives in Oregon and went to Dr. Weber while visiting a daughter in Pacifica.

Student Wins Scholarship

Westmoor High senior Mike Hunter was awarded the $500 Eliot H. Wheeler alumni scholarship for outstandingly high academic record.

Hunter has received a Parent-Teachers association scholarship in addition to his most recent honor.

He is active in the Science club, plus track, where he is a high jumper. He is planning to enroll at the University of California at Berkeley, and major in architecture.

two-lane street from Sharp Park road to Fessler avenue. Right of way would be purchased to enable the roadway to be widened to four lanes in the future.

Daly City engineer William Chapman noted last week that the "freeways are only as good as the roads that lead up to them."

Failure of the bond issue would negate the freeways system set

Army Rewards D.C. Employee

Dorothy M. Fairchild of 280 Lake Merced boulevard, Daly City, has been awarded $100 for "sustained superior performance" of duties while employed by the army at Fort Mason in San Francisco.

Miss Fairchild is a stenographer in the plant engineer division at Fort Mason. A citation, accompanying the award, states that she performs her tasks "in a minimum of time and in a consistently superior manner."

Three Injured In Collision

Three persons were injured in a two-car collision at Bellevue avenue and Guttenberg street, Daly City, about 8:40 Saturday morning.

Treated at Kaiser Foundation hospital in South San Francisco for minor injuries, police said, were Hilda M. Ortiz, 56, of 277 Baltimore way; Daly City, driver of one of the cars; a passenger, Fabian Ortiz, 70, and Art Thomas, 40, of 75 Mar Vista drive, Daly City, driver of the other car.

Police said Mr. Ortiz was out of control after the collision, jumped a curb and struck a retaining wall in front of a house occupied by Teofil Kot of 398 Guttenberg.

HMB Favors Road Bonds

Half Moon Bay city councilmen have reversed their previous position opposing a $34,000,000 city and county road bond issue to be submitted to voters on June 4, and now are in favor of it, City Administrator Fred Paxton said today.

Councilmen agreed to support the bonds after meeting with county supervisors last week and learned that funds would be allocated to realign San Mateo road between the Mountain House and Half Moon Bay and for the extension of the Nineteenth avenue freeway west from the campus of the College of San Mateo.

Salvation Army Appeal

A special appeal for discarded clothing and shoes was made today by Captain George W. Duplain, manager of the Men's Social Service center.

He explained that donations to the Salvation Army are the "life blood" to keeping the rehabilitation program in operation. The donated discards received are repaired and sold in the Salvation Army thrift stores to provide the means to carry on the center's rehabilitation program.

For free pick up service, call the Salvation Army.

Headache at San Bruno

Pfc. Michael Masgula, 23, collected several too many souvenirs Saturday night, according to San Bruno police.

The officers say they saw him leaving Artichoke Joe's on San Mateo avenue, with three beer glasses and a large container of seltzer tucked under his shirt.

Police said there were about 50 doses of the headache powder in the jar when they confiscated it, and that Masgula may have a headache today. He faces a charge of petty theft, and was released on $262 bail.

Bartenders valued the glasses and seltzer at $11.50.

Brunan Hurt in Accident

Robert James Supanich, 23, 2401 Princeton drive, San Bruno, was cited for driving at excessive speed and without due caution after a collision at 12:40 a.m. Monday in which he and his passenger were injured.

The collision occurred between Sixth and Seventh avenues on San Bruno, when Supanich's sportscar veered across the roadway and struck another vehicle head-on. The second car was driven by Stanford student Victor E. Shafer, 25.

Supanich said his passenger, John J. Matkovich, a sailor attached to the USS Catfish at Hunters' Point, suddenly grabbed the steering wheel and said "turn here." Both were to be treated by their own doctors.

Mateo Traffic Safety Awards

Seven San Mateo schools were given certificates today in recognition of their outstanding record of student traffic safety.

The presentation was made to patrol captains of the George Hall, Hayward Park city elementary and St. Gregory's parochial school. Second place honors went to Beresford, Laurel, Sunnybrae city elementary and St. Matthew's Episcopal school.

The thirty-eighth annual "Safety Patrol Day" is jointly sponsored by the city of San Mateo and the San Mateo Rotary club.

Some 1700 students gathered at Central park for a picnic at noon today, and then paraded downtown to the San Mateo theatre where the awards were presented. The youngsters were treated to a movie.

Traffic Sergeant George Andersen of the San Mateo police department is in charge of the annual event as well as patrol activities.

Following are the safety patrol captains who represented their schools:

Open Letter On School Woes Here

An open letter to the San Mateo Elementary school district board of trustees today challenged that group to communicate more fully with the parents, and to treat both the public and the teachers with respect due them.

Written by Mrs. Gene Lewis, 1323 Monroe avenue, the letter followed several pleas from parents for more information regarding the reasons behind last Thursday's report on poor teacher morale.

The letter was also signed by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Howe, and was to be circulated to other families for signature. It reads:

"We are parents who attended last Thursday night's board of education meeting because we were concerned about reported problems in the San Mateo elementary school district.

"We left the meeting more deeply concerned than before. We are disturbed about the poor rapport between teachers and board members, about the board members' apparent unwillingness to come to concrete grips with the problems outlined by the California Teachers association representative. Most of all we were disturbed by the attitude of some board members toward parents who acted in good faith.

"We call upon the Board and superintendent to communicate fully and openly with all concerned, to treat public and teachers with the respect due them and to make such changes as will restore confidence."

S.M. Welfare Fraud Cases

Trial is pending against two welfare recipients who have been accused of fraudulently obtaining county funds.

Florine Benjamin, 28, of San Francisco, is scheduled to be tried June 3 on charges that she obtained $329 more than to which she was entitled. Inspector M. L. Greenfield of the district attorney's office said Mrs. Benjamin applied for aid for three children in San Mateo county but that one of the children was being cared for in the home of his grandfather.

Mrs. Wanda Jones is scheduled to appear June 7 on charges that she obtained $344 through fraud. Inspector Greenfield said Mrs. Jones used her mother's address in Menlo Park to receive welfare in San Mateo county while living with a man in Milpitas in Santa Clara county.

Belt Clinic Is Extended

The Daly City-Colma Junior Chamber of Commerce has decided to extend its Seat Belt Clinic through the weekend, according to chairman Peter Trajanese.

The Jaycees will sell seat belts for six dollars, with free installation, in the Serra Bowl parking lot, at Junipero Serra boulevard and Eastmoor avenue from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday and Sunday.

HAND-PICKED to succeed the fabulous Roy Shipstead in Shipstead & Johnson Ice Follies, 27-year-old Richard Dwyer has been a sensation since he joined the show at the age of 14, bringing with him half-a-dozen national skating titles. You can see Dwyer, as well as his new star partner Dorothyann Nelson and the 160 other members of the "Show of Champions" as the guest of The Times, if you "Find Your Name" in the Want Ad section. A name will be hidden daily in the Want Ads. If it is yours, you will be given two tickets to Shipstead & Johnson Ice Follies, which opens at Winterland in San Francisco, Wednesday, June 19. Caravan Inn Perfect Memorial Day Vacation

Betty Sedam has the wheels in motion again at the Caravan Inn in Mountain View. Her first step in the managership role is a budget dandy for those who are wondering what to do this coming Memorial Day weekend.

Imagine spending four days and three nights at the luxurious Caravan Inn for just $34.00 per person (double occupancy). You can do just that starting Thursday, May 30, through Sunday, June 2. Also included is dinner in the Caravan Room Thursday, Friday, and Saturday; breakfast and luncheon on Friday and Saturday; a cocktail in the Caravan Room on Friday and Saturday; Sunday morning breakfast before checking out (by 3 p.m.) Sunday afternoon. Looks like Christmas has arrived early on the Peninsula. This is Manager Betty Sedam's way of saying "Welcome to the Mountain View Caravan Inn."

Betty Sedam

New entertainment personality in the cocktail lounge is Kathy Halaas, who plays classical to jazz requests at the piano and organ.

Dining room plans for the immediate future are to present a new menu that will include prime rib carved at your table from a cart.

ENRICO ROMANO's redecorating program for his Italian restaurant in Pacifica will soon be completed. You're in for the "stainless steel" surprise of your life if you haven't dined here recently. When the final cocktail lounge and dining room additions are made, Romano's will resemble an Italian "jewel box." During the coming summer months, the restaurant hours will be Monday through Thursday, 4 p.m. to 2 a.m.; Friday, Saturday and Sunday, 10 a.m. to 2 a.m. Italian dinners and pizza also prepared to take out. Full course luncheons and dinners, plus a la carte service are available at Nick Finocchio's New Tivoli North Beach restaurant. The South San Francisco Holiday Inn features a Patio Coffee Shop, Lancer Cocktail Lounge, and Royal Hall Dining Room—in a delightful atmosphere of colorful decor. Every Wednesday night is family night in the Blue Peacock Room of Kings Bowl. Dinner is just $2.85; child's plate for $1.35. Zack's of San Francisco is featuring the Bianchi Afro-Morish Quartet, Sundays from 6 p.m. to 10 p.m. and Thursday evenings from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. The big surprise during the 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. cocktail hours is the price of drinks.

BRUNO SCATENA, "Mr. Joe's of Westlake," is one of the Bay Area's most avid sportsmen, a first nighter and a restaurateur. His plans for the future include restaurants (on the Westlake type) for Honolulu and Las Vegas. The Saturday night prime rib feast that is served at your table from a cart is a Hilton Inn dining room delight. Also dancing to Maurice Anger and his orchestra. Bernice Berenson, new owner of the Silver Spoon at Lorton and Burlingame Avenue is high on praise for his Marinated Steak. I'll go along with him. Enjoyed one Tuesday evening which called for a return visit. Baked potato, salad, and coffee also included in the order. Going to the baseball game Friday night (you lucky ticket holders). There's a bus leaving the Piccadilly that will take you along. Don't overlook the fact that the Piccadilly is serving a before-the-game buffet tonight for just $2.50. Although there is no bar at the charming Charm Garden restaurant, beverages of choice are served at the table. Owner Z. L. Loo was formerly chef at the Shanghai Hotel, in China, where dignitaries of many foreign countries came to dine.

PAUL GILBERT, comedy star of stage screen and television, is currently headlining the show in the Casino show room of the Mapes hotel in Reno. Gilbert joins the King's IV to provide dusk to dawn entertainment of the big revolving stage at the Mapes. The likable entertainer has reached stardom in movies, television, musical comedy, and has enhanced his great record of starring in the most representative supper clubs and hotels. "The Phil Harris Show" is in its final week in the beautiful South Shore room at Harrah's Tahoe. Featuring the versatile singer-comedian, the show will appear through June 2 twice nightly, with a third show added on June 1 at 2 a.m. Robert Goulet follows Harris on June 2 for two weeks. Jimmy Demaret, one of the great golfers, will be on hand at the Second Annual Harrah's Invitational golf tournament conducting two clinics. The tourney is set for June 2 through June 6 at South Lake Tahoe. Harrah's will award a Rolls Royce, a Ferrari or "his and hers" Jaguars to the lucky golfers sinking a hole in one.

NAMES THAT MAKE ENTERTAINMENT NEWS are scheduled to appear at Wilbur Clark's Las Vegas Desert Inn in the next few months. The big star plus satellite acts policy is making way for stronger combinations of talent during the summer months. In the fall, the Las Vegas resort will open a new theater-dining room and a new entertainment plan will be effected. Dany Kaye's current record-breaking engagement at the Inn will conclude on June 10th and the new show will co-star Dick Shawn along with the Kim Sisters. This strong combination of music, mimicry, humor and dance will be presented for four weeks. On July 9, Eddie Fisher will share the spotlight with America's funniest team, Ford and Hines. Fisher will appear for two weeks, Ford and Hines remaining with Andy Williams in the last two stanzas. The McGuire Sisters will arrive August 6 for a four-week engagement.

Sinaloa Star Does Fire Dance

Talent galore at Luz Garcia's Sinaloa. Polo Rojas (he's the male dancer of the Polo and Estela team), who was featured in the Mexican versions of "My Fair Lady" and "Brigadoon," does an authentic fire dance in the Sinaloa's all-Latin revue that expresses versatility, plus. For entertainment that's different and difficult, catch the dance team of Polo and Estela. Their engagement at the San Francisco Mexican cantina is limited. The "No cover charge for dining customers" continues through the 6 p.m. to 2 a.m. hours.

Keith's Chicken Takes a Trip

Recently suggested that you take a bucket of Keith Williams' fried chicken on your next trip to Nevada, or way points. To shorten a long story, I took my own advice and did just that on a Sunday trek to Barney's Casino in Lake Tahoe (South Shore). Stopped the car in the shade of a tree (the sun shines in this territory) and partook of a few wings, some white meat, and other luncheon extras. Really had a vacation-ee time of it.

The coins you drop in the Burlingame Hyatt House Hotel reflection pool, located at the entrance, go for a good cause—they're gathered at the end of each month and distributed to various charities. This month, the Muscular Dystrophy of America is the recipient of the Hyatt House patrons' generosity. This has been a policy here since the spacious hotel first opened.

Joe Finocchio's importation from England, comic J. J. Van Dyke, likes it so well in San Francisco he has taken out citizenship papers and expects to be what he calls "a voting American guy soon." Van Dyke is one of seven comedians in the current musical revue hit at Finocchio's and he's so much a favorite, he's scheduled to be featured in the new summer revue Producer Lestra LaMonte is now preparing.

Brisk Business At Nick Gust's

Very colorful affair at Nick's, the other evening, when the Sons of Norway dined here in full dress. This must be about the only organization Nick doesn't belong to, but, no doubt, has already put in an application.

Mother's Day business was so brisk at Nick's, according to my Pacifica reporter, Mary Ann Ray, that the employees should have been served slippers and pillows for a relaxing period—after serving food from opening to closing.

Beautiful banquet rooms serving up to 135 people are available at Recca's restaurant on Golden Gate avenue for private parties.

Bill Sakellariou, a waiter at Sil Olivia's Exposition Fish Grille who recently brought his brother, George, and mother from the old country, was surprised to learn that his brother is an entertainment talent on the guitar, among other string instruments. Bill now has a double shift—works for Sil Olivia and scouts bookings for his brother.

YOUR DANCING SHOES

are the link between you and an unforgettable evening of dinner-dancing at Hyatt House Burlingame. They'll dance to the lively rhythms of Bob Wellman and his Orchestra in the magnificent Scheherazade Room. Come for gourmet food along with fine entertainment. It's part of the luxury you enjoy at every Hyatt House hotel. Ideal for banquets, meetings and conferences, too.

There will be plenty of action in the vicinity of 1370 East Nineteenth Avenue starting at 1 p.m. Sunday when the Stuart Highlander Pipe Band will give out with their well-known tunes of Scotland at the Lion Rampant Pub (formerly Kenny's Club). Club owner George Brooke is a member of this group—and what's better than toot'n' your own bagpipes on a fun occasion.

Barney's Casino Must Grow Straight Up

Barney's Casino in Lake Tahoe (South Shore) Nevada, has become so popular that if owner Barney O'Malla plans to enlarge again, it will have to be for straight up. A year ago, Barney's was a one-floor operation. Today, there are two levels. I predict: By this time next year there will be either another floor or the start of a new hotel for the South Shore skyline with Barney's green and white colors flying from the top.

Understand Barney's Casino is the only club in Nevada featuring low ball and poker. "Musical" entertainment is provided by the whirl of the slots, while the vocal section is well represented by club dealer calls for "New shooter" and "How about a hard way point?" The "stars" of the 24-hour casino are the flickering Keno numbers that brighten up the walls.

Barney's Casino restaurant and coffee shop is open 24 hours a day—with a full menu coverage from old fashioned doughnuts to New York steaks.

Look for a new chicken house restaurant to be premed in the near future. A very fitting name has been selected: "The Three Yorks."

No parking problems at the Brentwood Lodge—and no "50-mile hike" to the restaurant's front door.

Now Featuring Two Beards

Brian Mackwood, a Peninsula resident and handsome, young manager of Phil Lehr's Steakery, in downtown San Francisco, like Phil, will go all out for a rib. He's grown an exact duplicate of Phil's moustache and beard—just to get a laugh at the double-takes of the Steakery's patrons.

Jack Carter, one of the most versatile and funniest comedians to ever step on a stage, is doing a great job of pleasing the crowds in the Fairmont hotel's Venetian room, in San Francisco.

Wrong Fit

Sheriff Defends Services to County; Tells Savings

Sheriff Earl Whitmore last week told an assembled Council of Mayors' meeting that the county sheriff's office is serving their individual police departments in more ways than they know, and added his guess that the time would come when there would be a metropolitan police department covering San Mateo county.

Meanwhile, the sheriff said, the county is very nearly in a position where it can offer a very real economy to the cities, as well as a service that could promote efficiency and better law enforcement.

Whitmore referred to a new radio communications hookup, worked out with the civil defense program, which will enable cutting in either the entire county, or sections of it, into one police radio communications link.

Police Link

He noted that each city at present has to maintain a number of people — at least four — per week, just to run the radio communications, out of headquarters. The county-wide link would reduce this by more than a score of people.

Whitmore also attacked what he felt were a lot of misconceptions about the cost of the sheriff's office and its services.

"I have been accused of being an empire builder," he smiled, "but it is far from that."

He noted that of the total county tax dollar, the sheriff's office receives only .0085 per cent; comparatively, in their city budgets, San Mateo police get 21.1 per cent, Menlo Park, 37.96 per cent, Brisbane, 42.5 per cent and Redwood City 19.1 per cent of the entire tax money, he said.

Of the $1,512,673 in the 1962-63 sheriff's budget, only a very small amount goes for patrol work in the unincorporated area, and this is about the smallest division of the sheriff's office, he said.

Generally, not one new patrol car has been added in 12 years, he noted; but said that there had been exception made in East Palo Alto, and in "contract" areas, such as Woodside, where special patrols were added.

On the other hand, he told the mayors, there has been growth of a number of services involving the cities.

These include a criminal investigation division and laboratory services used daily by all police departments, county jail, and the technical division handling communications.

Whitmore said the jail, built atop the new Hall of Justice building to house 135 prisoners, is already inadequate, with 200 a day now being the average.

While he felt the Camp Pomponio facility would tend to relieve matters a little, he did not feel it would relieve them much.
